THE DEADLINE

'Twas the day after deadline and all through the staff,
Not a sound could be heard, not even a laugh.
The copy is now tucked safely in place.
Who'd ever believe there'd been a hectic race?
Everyone's dead; there is peace at last.
But just for fun, let's look at the past:
A meeting was called by our editor Joanne.
But a unanimous count could be seen by no man.
The whole staff looked on when the cover-man came,
And almost too late found this wasn't a game.
Victor and Al had their heads in a huddle
To pull themselves out of a financial muddle.
Terri and Ruth, Barbara and Bill
Hoped that Miss Gries wouldn't say "nil."
Barry and Skip worked hard on the sports,
While people around them announced
"ad" reports.
Jeanie and Jane held their heads in their hands
As they proofread the write-ups, the last!—
for the bands.
On Fridays came Jim, Emma Jane, Kay, and Dot,
Theresa, and—yes, don't forget Pattie Scott.
Last, but not least, in the lineup is Joe,
Our faithful typist who never said "no."
We've had serious business and, at times,
lots of fun;
But we made sure this yearbook is the very best one!

SENIORS

DARLENE ACKERMAN

Another import from Port Carbon, "Dar," who actively participated in Rainbow and G.A.A., could occasionally be heard providing the organ music for auditorium entrances and exits. While "Ackie" enjoyed working in Mr. Luchnick's Commercial Lab, we see in her not-too-distant future more organ music, accompanied by wedding bells!! "Aisle, Altar, Hymn," eh, "Dar"?

THOMAS ALLAR

An avid sports fan, Tom claims his one "love" to be—tennis. This usually soft-spoken lad was a real terror on any court! With a warm personality and the desire to learn, Tom will enter the field of engineering, hoping to "match" life "point by point."

McKINLEY ALLEN

Now here is a fellow who really enjoys the mechanics of things — preferably the auto; while at the "Castle on the Hill" he could usually be found in the Auto Shop. When he could tear himself away, he enjoyed football and other outdoor sports. His future is not planned yet, but we are sure he will be a "Cadillac Success."

ROBERT ALLEN

Bob, our friendly "mortician," enjoyed teasing in Mr. Schnerring's chem class. We shall long remember the tough guy, black-leather-jacket role he played in "Lock, Stock, and Lipstick." To this future businessman we wish the best in all his "undertakings." May he never hear a complaint from a dissatisfied customer! (Wanna try his new lay-away plan??)

GERALDINE ANDERSON

One of the favorite daughters of the Class of '63 is Gerry, a gal who not only enjoyed sports, but also participated in them. She displayed unlimited enthusiasm about everything she lent her hand to, especially the goings-on of the Girls' Athletic Association. We are confident that Gerry's enthusiasm and ambition-to-serve will remain with her as she goes on to more responsible endeavors.

LAURALEE ANDREWS

This calm, warm-hearted lass with a musical name seldom had to waste time and energy "picking up pieces." A devotee of the "typewriter-pecking" group, Laura also shared her abilities with the Home Ec. Club. Her post-three o'clock activities included Luther League, Y-Teens, and Rainbow Girls. May you have a satisfying experience in the realm of files, figures, and facts, Lauralee.

DAVID ATKINS

This talkative, friendly fellow came to us from Frackville, where he was an announcer of football games and manager of the basketball team. Dave, who was a member of A.Z.A., enjoyed practicing radio broadcasting and, on occasion, was a guest disc jockey on WPPA. A future Mel Allen, Dave has our best wishes as he enters the field of sportscasting.

LEWIS BARASHA

Scholar, athlete, gentleman—Lou was known as the "strong, silent type" (?). Having distinguished himself in football and wrestling, Lou also graced T.K.D. (president, no less) and Student Council with his "solid" personality. To one who spent so much time studying math and German, we wish "nur das Beste" for a truly grand guy!

DAVID BARNES

Look! It's a bird! It's a plane! No, it's our "Jet"—the speed demon of the '63 P.H.S. eleven and track team. "Jet" also claimed membership in the Varsity Club, T.K.D., and served as a homeroom officer. To this fellow whose mind is as agile as his feet, may we say: On your mark! Get set! Go—on your way to many useful and worthwhile endeavors, Dave!

DOROTHY BAUERS

A high stepper of the first order, Dorothy put her pep and energy into the majorette corps. She also participated with zest in the Junior Volunteer Nursing Corps and on the Hi - S - Potts Newspaper staff. To a future Miss Nightingale go our best wishes for a successful future. P. S. — How's your French?

EUGENE BEARD

We shall always recall with the greatest of pleasure the tricky, broken - field long - distance gainers Gene provided P.H.S. grid fans with, especially during the 1962 season. His booming punts consistently kept the opponents in their own "back yards." May you, Gene, the last of the Beard boys, continue to move forward for substantial gains in the game of Life!

CAROL BECHTEL

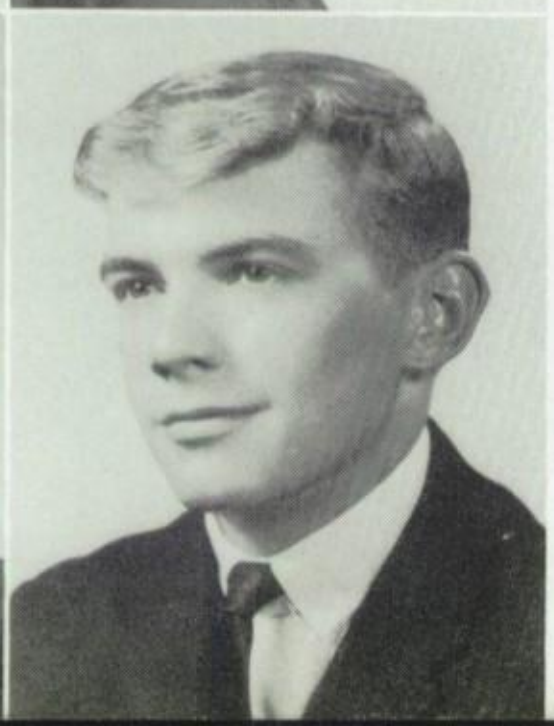
As fine an actress as can be found anywhere is right here in Pottsville High. It's none other than the lively, lovely, and loquacious Carol. No one is likely to forget this miss for her stand-out performance in our top-notch senior play. We are sure she will continue to give a star performance on the stage of life.

SANDRA BEDFORD

Pretty, charming, witty—these only begin to describe our Sandy. Dancing of any kind and collecting stuffed animals are high on this gal's list of leisure-time activities. Sandy's thoughts are on "Cloud 9" for she dreams of becoming an airline hostess. May she be "highly" successful.

ELIZABETH BENSON

This pretty gal rated typing and filing as her favorites. Then, too, she found time for many types of sports. Elizabeth, well liked, possessed a pleasing personality. May this lass experience a full measure of satisfaction in whatever she chooses to do.



BARBARA BEVAN

Zoom!! There goes Barbara in her li'l old Chevy. During her four years at P.H.S., Barb gave unstintingly of her services to F.H.A., G.A.A., various sports, band (in which she played clarinet), and Commercial Lab. Her plans after graduation are still in suspension, but it is quite certain that our "B.B." will give a good account of herself in her every positive effort.

RONALD BEVAN

Ron, with his sly glances and shaggy hair, had a certain, definite flair for mischief. He rated Miss Foley's and Mr. Schnerring's classes as the "mostest." Included in his pleasures were driving his car and playing a pace - setting game of basketball. We know Ron will rack up points in the game of life, too.

EDWARD BIESKI

Meet one of the "Woody Woodpeckers" of the Wood Shop. One can easily guess that this fellow's future profession will be carpentry. Aside from woodworking, this chap's leisure moments are spent playing basketball or hunting — or wandering through the corridors! May Ed construct months of payment for others and years of pleasure and success for himself.

HARRIET BILLGER

Brimming over with personality and natural wit, Harriet was never without a joke. Her favorite pastime, excluding dancing, was just plain having fun. This loquacious miss belonged to Hi-S-Potts Newspaper staff and Biology Club (vice - president). Next year Harriet plans to enter a secretarial school. Harriet's just the "type"—to succeed!

FAY BOLICH

Well, Helena Rubinstein is finally going to have some competition when Fay leaves Pottsville High to become a beautician. Although her aim was always in the field of beauty, she seemed to have found time to participate in Library Club and Home Ec. Club. We are positive that if her fingers set a curl the way her dancing feet tap a rhythm, she will make a lot of "permanent" friends.

MARY BONCHACK

P-R-I-V-A-T-E S-E-C-R-E-T-A-R-Y is the ambition of this affable miss with deep, dark eyes and a pleasing personality. In addition to being an excellent student, Mary also was associated with the Hi-S-Potts Newspaper, G.A.A., and the Biology Club. We are sure that this sweet gal will achieve the many things her heart desires.

JEAN BOOHAR

Clear blue eyes, a sincere smile, and plenty of pep . . . added together . . . equal Jeanie, an efficient literary editor of our Hi-S-Potts Annual. One of our finest, she always capably fit the role, whether she was wearing a toga, singing a song, or wielding the G. A.A. gavel. To this attractive future teacher we wish only the best — and a year's supply of polished apples!

CAROL BORIS

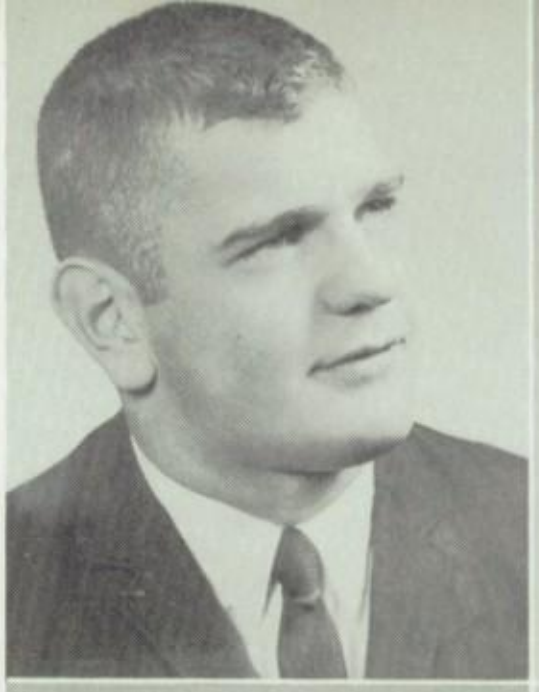
Because her charming smile reflects her delightful personality, Carol has garnered many friends at Pottsville High. Studying (mostly German and chem) occupied much of Carol's time, yet she was no stranger at Mickey's or the Lake. The Class of '63 tips its hat to a future "lady in white."

THERESA BOSACK

This gal possessed the makings of a sweet Fraulein and a mad scientist in Chem, but claimed Advanced Lit. as her favorite subject (no tests!). Our popular, friendly, and sparkling Theresa was a senior class officer, varsity cheerleader, and a member of the Hi-S-Potts Annual staff. T.B. always had a "Hi, Perry!" for everyone. How can she miss having a merry future as a college frosh!

FAITH BOWERS

Mix a portion of deviltry, a dash of mischief, a heap of friendship . . . add sudden, joyous laughter, and you will have Faith, optimistic to the core. If one strolled by the Home Ec. room, he could not mistake her presence within. The Class of '63 has plenty of "faith" in this Faith. Make no mistake about that!



JOHN BROCHEY

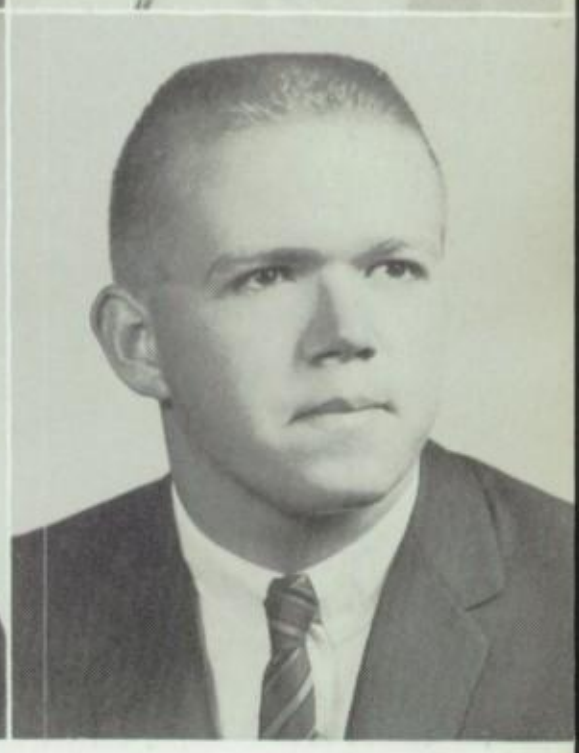
"Broch," one of the more affable members of our class, had an impish grin for everyone—especially the girls. (On special occasions he was even seen to blush!!) "Broch" claimed membership in the Varsity Club and Hi-Y. As a future phys. ed. director, we just know that here's one guy who will not have to stand on his head to please ANYONE!

MARGARET BROBST

Whenever the air was pierced with a loud, squeaky giggle, we knew Peg couldn't be far behind. While her favorite haunt was the art room, Peggy also enjoyed participating in the Aqua Angels and the Scavengers. This future Mrs. will long be remembered as one of the fun-loving-est members of our class.

JOYCE BROWER

Apparently nonchalant and unassuming, "Xerxes" has surprised many of us with her boundless enthusiasm and ambition. Having been a member of the band for four years, Joyce served as its treasurer in her senior year. She is surely deserving of the good "breaks" which just MUST be coming her way in the not-too-distant future.



GLENN BUTLER

This likeable lad proclaimed to all who would listen that espanol was his favorite subject. An active member of the Y.M.C.A., where he served as a life guard, Glenn found the "Y" an ideal outlet for his interest in phys. ed. and athletics. As he sets out to become an instructor in the manly arts, we wish for him only the best.

ANGELA CALO

Always bubbling over with enthusiasm. Angela added a bright sparkle wherever she went. She made a fine captain of the flag twirlers and livened many a game. We'll always recall "Angie" for her pleasing personality, engaging smile, and striking beauty. To you, Angela, we wish a merry future and a life full of happiness.

ROBERT CAPPEL

Although this fellow toiled off and on at the Sun Ray Drug and the S. S. Weiss stores, he still found time for his hobbies, which included listening to records, hunting, fishing, and camping. As Bob, a member of the D.E. Class, moves on to becoming a pilot (he hopes) in the U. S. Air Force, we predict that he will "fly high" on the "jet stream" to whatever goals are his.

JOHN CHERRYBON

Quiet? Well, maybe, but never to be forgotten. An enrollee in the industrial course, John chose auto mechanics as his "meat." Naturally, working on cars would head his list of main interests, with skin-diving and other water sports running a close second. As you become one of Uncle Sam's men, may your future be as rosy as the color of cherry bon-bons, John Cherrybon!

JAMES CLOSE

Collecting records and dancing at Willow Lake are just two of "Ray's" many hobbies. A member of Miss Curran's Distributive Education class, he did his best to make our associations unforgettable ones. As he enters Uncle Sam's Navy, we are certain he will sail "on course" o'er the oceans deep.

ROBERT CONNOR

Bob, our diminutive, handsome "playboy," was one of the Class of '63 wrestling stand-outs. He was a straight "A" gym enthusiast and a "number one" sports fan. Good luck, Bob. We're rooting for you! May you "pin" any tough obstacle which might challenge you as you take your stance on life's limitless mat.

BEVERLY CREASY

The Port Carbonite with a zany flair? That's our Creasy. When not saying something witty or laughing (which is never), Bev turned to plane geometry and piano playing. Aside from lending her many talents to French Club, G.A.A., and Junior Volunteer Nursing, this great gal will long be remembered for her limitless wit and natural humor. To a future beautician, then, we wish a "howling" success.

THOMAS CURVEY

Having survived Mr. Flynn's algebra class as a frosh and Mr. Liddle's solid class as a senior, our young Mr. Curvey survived whatever mathematical curves which were tossed in his direction. The possessor of a genuine thoughtfulness for and a sincere interest in others, he (and his spontaneous smile) helped to brighten even the darkest days. To a really great guy — the very best.

ELIZABETH D'ALFONSO

Look! It's a pretty, dark-haired tornado coming down the hall! This bundle of energy managed to keep herself on-the-go with Library Club, Sketch Club, Student Council (secretary), and National Honor Society during her sojourn at P.H.S. We envy those lucky patients to whom "Fonso" will administer when she completes her studies in nursing.

BONITA DALTON

This cute member of Miss Curran's D.E. class could always be found either ripping up the asphalt with her black-and-white Oldsmobile or burning the dance floors. She spent much of her time in Home Ec., Hi-S-Potts Newspaper staff, and Senior Y-Teens. As she enters the field of retaling, we wish Bonnie the best of everything.

ELAINE DAUBERT

Although Elaine is a very soft-spoken miss, her qualities are known to more than a few. Indeed, the Class of '63 is proud to claim her as its own. Hoping to become a good secretary, Elaine is working diligently to attain this goal. How we envy her prospective employer!

CLAUDE DAVIS, III

Who was that speedster moving toward the center of the field with the water bucket at time-out? 'Twas "Skip," our manager. An all-sports enthusiast, he ran for cross country and track and served as assistant sports editor of the Hi-S-Potts Annual. After graduation, "Skip" plans to enter Penn State, where he'll use his three years of Mrs. Schartel's fine German instruction as a foundation for training in preparation for a Service career.

SAMUEL DEIBLER

Have you seen that brawny, handsome fellow leading our band and literally making the halls of P.H.S. "echo with music"? Sam, president and student conductor of the band, almost inevitably became the leader of every organization he joined—the Pottsville U.C.Y.M. and church fellowship, to name a few. May he have many encores as he moves forward on his way through life in Christian service.

ROSAIRE DEITER

Slender and graceful, Rosaire was a quiet but effective member of Mr. Luchnick's Commercial Lab staff. Rosaire also contributed much to the social and educational activities of the Home Ec. Club. With a lark-like voice, this soprano soared high in a cappella choir and District Chorus. May she gaily continue to scale the high notes in life!

RICHARD DELANEY

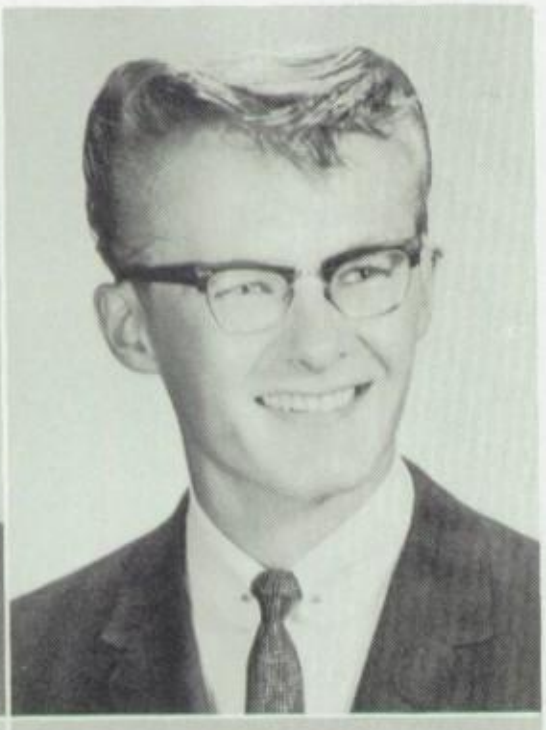
This fine fellow could always be found dissecting the little "beasties" at meetings of the Biology Club, of which he was the devoted president. "Rich" unfailingly rode along on its varied bus trips. But when he was free, he faithfully cheered for our teams lustily. May he just as faithfully engineer his way to a prosperous future.

NADINE DeLONG

Aside from her delightful performance as Miss Prather in the senior play, "Mag" played a "mean" game of volleyball and "mashed" a wicked potato! While she enjoyed sports, she also rated English T-O-P-S. To this "teacher-to-be" of kids in the elementary grades we wish loads of happiness, luck, and laughter.

MARY ANN DeMARIA

Hail to the Mitch Miller of the senior class! This gal's personality-plus came forward on the band buses when she led the Kilties in many an old song —and capably so. Mary Ann was president of the Highland Lassies in her senior year. This popular girl also found time in her busy schedule to perform the duties of vice-president of F.H.A. To a real "cool cat" we wish all the finest things which life has to offer.



MICHAEL DeSTEFANO

"In the spring a young man's fancy turns . . ." This quote pertained to Mike all year 'round. "Dee" proved invaluable as a member of Mr. Haberle's basketball and baseball squads. His "bouncy" personality and keen sense of humor will long be remembered by those of us who associated with him day by day.

THOMAS DOBROLSKY

Tom, better known as "Lefty," rates high in woodworking. When not making some fine piece, he could be found studying his favorite subject—history. After graduation, Tom plans to cast his lot with Uncle Sam. With this preparation, he will not have too much trouble sanding off any rough spots he may encounter on the road of life. Good luck, Tom!

BARBARA DOBROSHELESKY

"Gentlemen prefer blondes!" Barb, an attractive girl with a flair for fun, displayed her art talents as a member of the Sketch Club and assistant art editor of the Hi-S-Potts Annual. As she enters the field of education, this popular member of our class carries with her our fondest wishes for a rosy future—free from all "barbs"!

ROBERT DOUGHERTY

This sharp-looking male brightened many a snack from behind the counter at the H. L. Green store. As helmsman of the D.E. ship of state, he piloted the merchandisers through a whirlpool of activities. Important spots charted on "Doc's" course were dancing, swimming, and ice-skating. To a dauntless "Doc," we map a successful "course" with Uncle Sam.

RUTH MAE DOUGHERTY

Quiet and serene, Ruth is known well only by her close friends. But, one thing for sure is that she espacially enjoyed roller-skating and horseback riding (she confessed, though, that there's nothing like the first horseback ride to make a person feel better off!). Best of luck to you, Ruth, in all that you do.

FRANCIS ECKERT

One of Palo Alto's native-born, "Slim" spent little time and effort on studies. While among us he centered his deepest interest in Wood Shop creations. However, hunting and fishing, as well as most other sports, were high on his totem pole of interests. Smooth sailing with Uncle Sam, "Slim"!

MARY ANN EDMONDS

Mary Ann, our dear little "banana eater," was chock full o' fun and mirth. Her winning smile and dancing eyes have won her many friends. Her main interest, as well as hobby, is music. She plays both organ and piano and is a member of the a cappella choir. To you, Mary Ann, a future elementary or music teacher, we wish the best of everything.

CLAYTON EDWARDS

Hear that crazy beat? That could be none other than the mad, mad playing of our "Butch"! Another commuter from Port Carbon, Clayton lent his various talents to machine shop and D.E., of which he is vice-president. This future electrician of Uncle Sam's Air Force will long be remembered for his friendly ways and his twangy guitar.

JANE ELISON

Jane, whose favorite class was chemistry, "mixed" for herself a well-rounded high school career. Aside from classes, she could usually be found knitting, dancing, talking, or cheering for our Big Eleven. Here among us she was active in A.I.D., G.A.A., and Junior Volunteer Nursing Corps. Many a male patient's pulse will beat faster when Jane assumes her nursing duties, for nursing will be her "line."

MARY EVANS

Mary, a sparkplug for fun, thrust her whole heart into the task at hand — save studying. She relished dancing, swimming, reading, and walking. This "agradable senorita" prized Spanish and English classes and lent her services to the Library Club and G.A.A. We're sure Mary will spark the health of many in her nursing career.

JUDITH FRANKO

During her high school years Judy enjoyed typing and history classes. She entered the D.E. class in her senior year and began working at the Music 'Mart. In her leisure time she enjoys listening to records, dancing, and collecting dolls. Although Judy's future is vague at present, we believe she will prosper in whatever she tries.

JAMES FREED

With his endless supply of jokes, Jim could always be counted upon to be the life of any party. When he was not "out on the town," he could be found at the Y.M.C.A., to which he devoted his spare time. Jim made his presence felt in varsity football, wrestling, T.K.D., Varsity Club, and Presidents' Council. Next year it is off to college, where he will prepare for a career in the Y.M.C.A. and the "Y" World of Sports.

ROBERT FREESE

This good-looking fellow who has set many a heart aflutter is none other than Bob. This affable guy with the out-going personality and long-to-be-remembered smile enjoyed being with the opposite sex and working on cars. Although his plans are still a-forming, we send him off with a carload of wishes.

BARBARA FREEZE

"The balance in the treasury is . . ." These words were very familiar to Barb while she served as the capable treasurer of the Distributive Education class. A cappella choir and reading rated very high on her list of activities. This "Freeze" will surely crack the ice, as she goes out into an ever-widening area of activities.

DAVID FREEZE

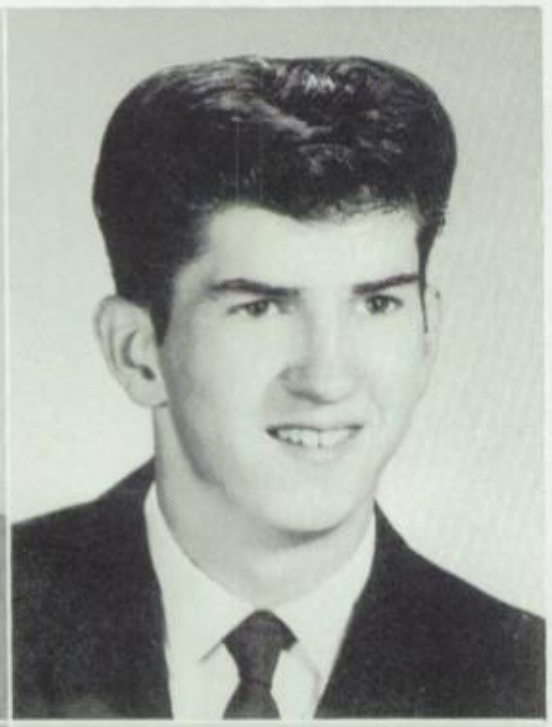
A spirit of friendliness and an excellent scholastic record helped Dave earn the high regard and deep respect of everyone at P.H.S. Then, too, he served as Senior class president, Student Council vice-president, T.K.D. treasurer, National Honor Society member, varsity basketball player—well, as Mel Allen would say, "How about that!" This very special guy will have no trouble as a future electrical engineer.

CHARLES FRITZ

Who was that mysterious, mischievous guy trudging down the corridor? Why, it was none other than our "Fritzie." An avid sports enthusiast, whether it be as a spectator or as a participant, Fritz carved an unforgettable niche in our class memories. May there be no "Charlie-horses" for our Charlie as he moves forward.

DOUGLAS GALL

That all of this "Gall" isn't divided into three parts is a bit miraculous, for he got a big "bang" out of Mr. Schnerring's chem lab experiments. Corridor strolling was a favorite "activity" in Doug's scheme of things. He's really serious, though, about a career in some phase of engineering. May he do well.



ROBERT GARLAND

"Over the river and through the woods, a-hunting Bob did go." An ardent sportsman, as well as a firm advocate of the D.E. program, likeable Bob also managed to devote some of his free time to cars, cars, cars (when not working at Hadesty's). May we say "full speed ahead" to this sailor-to-be.

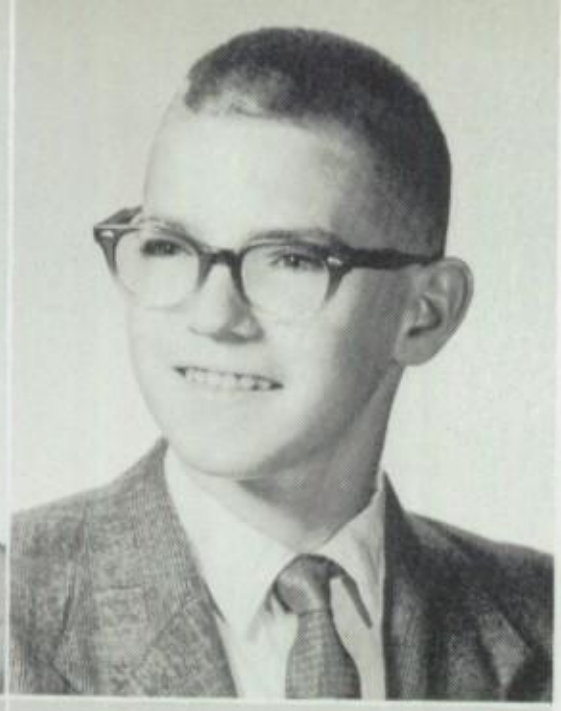
PATRICIA GARRETT

Zeal and exactness are two qualities which Pat can lay claim to. Because of these, she became a better-than-good student of bookkeeping and filing. With her determination to excel, Pat is bound to do very well as a secretary or a beautician.

RUTH GEARHART

This lively, graceful miss arrived during her junior year from Shillington with cartloads of charm and smiles. A versatile "fraulein," Ruth was active in the band, G.A.A., and the Hi-S-Potts Newspaper staff. She also earned membership in the National Honor Society. Ruth's co-curricular activities included dancing, ice-skating, swimming and bowling. A versatile gal she is — indeed!

Brad,
Lots of luck and success to a swell guy. Remember the Pierce Road Gang!
Ruth



CAROL GENOVESE

Step up and meet a cute little Italian lass from Palo Alto. "Hubba," as she was known to her friends, enjoyed working in the vocational office, swimming, and cheering our "mighty eleven." With a pencil, pad, stenographic book, and a cheery smile, we send our Carol on her way into the secretarial blue yonder.

EDWIN GETTIS

"Cars, cars, and more cars," was Ed's favorite hobby, and, naturally, his favorite subject was Auto Shop. Quick with a cheery smile no matter what the job was, Ed was a most agreeable classmate. We wish him well as he prepares for a future in the Armed Forces.

AUDREY GILMORE

Serious of mind, deft of hand, Audrey had a warm spot in her heart for English, French, Latin, and Chem. Her love for linguistics was also reflected in her participation in French Club and Latin Club. Audrey's interests included her correspondence with a Canadian pen pal. To a deserving lass and medical technologist, we wish all the "latest techniques"!

ANN GLASER

Although her name implies a glacier, Ann's warm manner quickly changed this mistaken belief. Her favorite hobby, besides dancing at the Lake and typing, is singing, which explains why she rated a cappella so highly. We wish this congenial young lady the best in her future years as a clerk-typist.

DEAN GLASSER

A Port Carbonite whose first love is boating and whose second love is trout fishing, Dean's happy manner and friendly ways will long be remembered by those of us who know him. As he readies himself to join the U. S. Navy (particularly I.B.M. training), we wish him well in his future endeavors.

DAISY GLENN

"D-A-I-S-Y, D-A-I-S-Y,"—so the barbershop quartette lyric goes, but ours is one Daisy who didn't have time for riding on a "bicycle built for two." G.A.A., baby-sitting, sewing, and reading occupied much of her leisure time. We're sure Daisy's future will include her wish—that of becoming a clerk-typist.

VERNA GOBA

A friend to all is our Verna. In a twinkling of an eye and a flashing of a smile, Verna can spread her sunshine. Dancing and collecting dolls are among this D.E.'s hobbies. Working at the Acme was a job she handled as capably as she did all her endeavors. Junior Volunteer Nursing rounds out this gal's activities. To you, Verna, we wish only the best.

DANIEL GOSS

Here's a fellow who added a spark to our class, for Danny dealt with electronics in Mr. Davis' classes. Young Mr. Goss did most of his work behind the scenes during assemblies. Why? He was a member of the stage management crew. We are sure that the same impulse he added to our class will spark his way on the path of his choice.

RONALD GRETH

"V-I-C-T-O-R-Y!!" That was Ron's batle cry as he lustily cheered at those never-to-be-forgotten pepper-uppers. This well-liked and delightful fellow lists the following hobbies: building models, reading books (with thick plots), and participating in soccer, archery, and riflery. May he fashion a fine master plan for himself as he goes into the building profession.

DARLENE HAIN

Who was that excited gal cheering in the stands for our team? Why, Darlene, of course. A true linguist, Darlene devoted herself to Spanish and Latin. In preparation for her career as a future pulsetaker, she belonged to the Junior Volunteer Nursing Corps and Latin Club. "Fortuna bona" to a deserving Roman maiden.

VICTOR HAMMEL

"Get those ads in!" was Vic's famous cry as mastermind of the financial ledger of the Hi-S-Potts Annual. In addition to serving as business manager, "Head" found time for being on Student Council and for acting as president of the Latin Club during his senior year. Outside of school, Vic was an active member of A.Z.A. As he enters the field of entomology, may we say in passing that "To Victor belong the . . ."

JOHN HANNAWAY

Zoom! A sudden roar, a cloud of dust, and off goes Hannaway in his hot '59 Chevy convertible. This tall, handsome member of the Distributive Education class claimed cars, girls, driving, and loafing at the Lake as his favorite leisure activities. Many "high-flying" times to this lad as he enters the Air Force.

JAMES HARLEY

"Crash" was quite a femme favorite at P.H.S. Then, too, he claimed membership in T.K.D., Varsity Club, and on both the vrasity basketball and baseball teams. Driving the "Bomb," our handsome and popular Jim could usually be found heading for a party. Next year, "Crash" will enter college as a prospective math teacher. We predict that he will search out and find the equation for success!

EDWARD HARIG

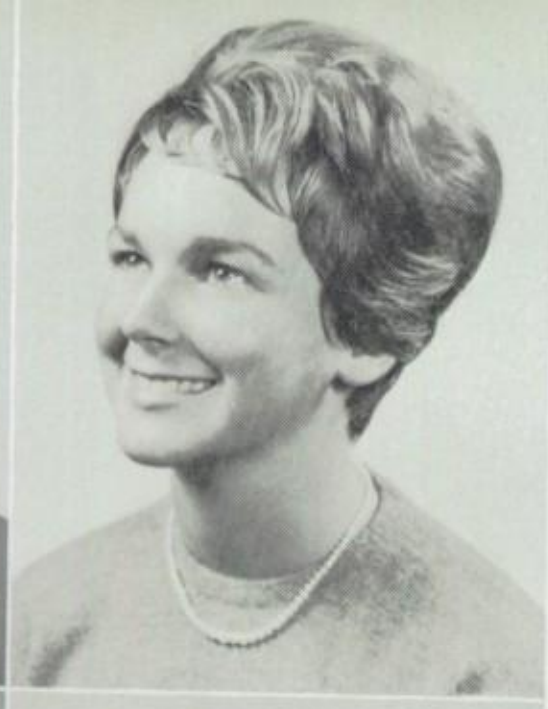
A Port Carbonite whose interests include baseball, football, and fishing, Ed could usually be found (whittling?) in Mr. Bierman's Wood Shop. Counting mathematics and drafting as his favorites, he will be fondly remembered as the silent one who "wood" do his duty as he "saw" it.

JUDITH HARMON

Although this vivacious blonde beauty could often be seen driving her little red Corvair, Judy still found time for Hi-S-Potts Newspaper staff, G.A.A., and the flag twirling corps. One of the most popular Senoritas "in these here parts," she will long be remembered for her sparkling smile and bubbling manner. As she enters the secretarial field, we wish her an unlimited supply of sharpened pencils!

DENNIS HARRIS

Denny, who rated Mr. Haberle's basketball and baseball teams as "the greatest," was well known during his stay at P.H.S. His keen sense of humor added much to our fellowship. Upon graduation, Denny hopes to join the Air Force. Even when your head is in the clouds, keep your feet on the ground, young man!



JOSEPH HARTLEY

With the beating of drums and the crashing of cymbals we present Joe! As Mr. Warren ("you may call me Gordon") in "Lock, Stock, and Lipstick" he displayed his fine acting ability. Just imagine! He was secretary of the band, president and student director of a cappella, and homeroom officer. He participated in F. T. A., Latin Club, Presidents' Council, and National Honor Society. This fellow really has it made — already!

SHARON HAUGHNEY

Pert and pretty, Sharon could usually be found at her sewing machine, Mickey's, or the Lake. "Haughie," in addition to serving as the capable lieutenant of the twirling corps, also participated in A.I.D., Hi-S-Potts Newspaper staff, and Library Club activities. As a future nurse, she will have to allow for her own personality when taking the pulse of any male patient!

ARNETTA HEINBACH

During her four years at P. H. S., Arnetta cultivated a liking for shorthand and bookkeeping. She rated F. H. A., Senior Y-Teens, G.A.A., and a cappella high on her list of favorite activities, with dancing, records, and driving her car a close second. Upon graduation, Arnetta plans to enter the secretarial field, where she'll speedily type her way in the career of her choice.

ALVIN HIRSCH

This steady, "organization man" tipped the scholastic scales in favor of the Class of '63. Besides showing up well in the N.E.D.T. during his sophomore and junior years, Al assisted in balancing the financial accounts of the Hi-S-Potts Annual staff. As an Eagle scout and an officer of Post 3 for three years, young Mr. Hirsch also excelled as a woodsman. We wish "all to Al" in the field of accounting. (Old accountants never die; they just lose their balance! Right, Al?)

GAIL HONICKER

"Charming," "cheerful," "chatty"—these are only a few of the terms which can best describe Gail. As co-captain of the cheerleading squad, she helped to generate that fierce P.H.S. spirit. In her spare time, Gail enjoyed dancing and horseback riding. To this wonderful gal we, in turn, give a lusty "cheer" for success in her chosen field of nursing.

GEORGE HONYARA

Here's a genial fellow who really is a sports lover. When not busy preparing for Mr. Luchnick's classes, George could be found playing on neighborhood football, baseball, or basketball teams, or bowling at the Gateway Lanes. We wish him many satisfying experiences and rewards as he joins America's greatest fighting team, the U. S. Marines.

RUTH HOOVER

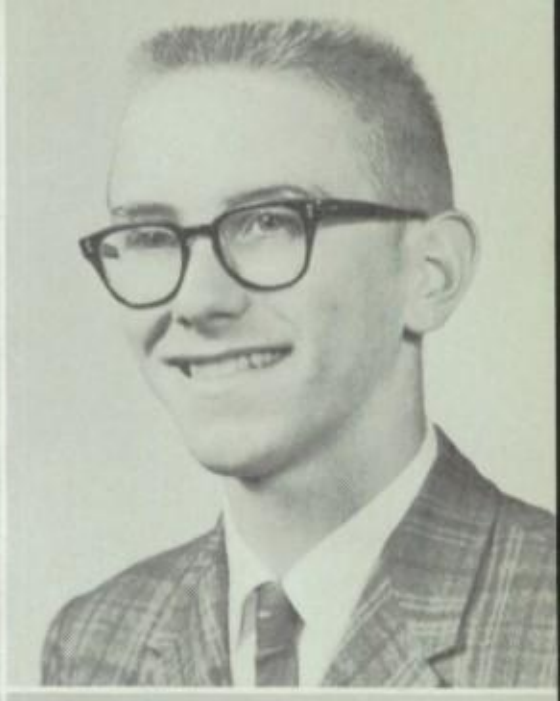
Busy as a bee! This little package of dynamite really packed a wallop. Her fresh-as-daisies personality brought spring into all our lives. Ruthie actively participated in Library and Latin Clubs, Hi-S-Potts Annual staff, National Honor Society, and a cappella choir. May this peppy and personable miss prosper in her chosen career—that of an English teacher.

CAROL HUESTON

This cute member of D.E. was known to her friends as "Blondie." On weekends she was usually to be seen twisting to the music of the Jordan Brothers at Willow Lake. Although her future is nebulous, we know those clouds hold something in store for her — because every cloud has a silver lining. Right, Carol?

ANTHONY HUGHES

If a basketball player is sometimes afflicted with athlete's foot, will an astronaut come under the influence of missle toe(s)?? Tony wants to know, for he's wholly interested in space (he can sit and stare into it, too, for long periods of time!), missles, and allied subjects. May he go far in his study of rocketry, courtesy of U. S. Air Force.



JAMES HUMPHREY

This happy-go-lucky component of our class added his share of spark and enthusiasm to everything he did. Jim, who hailed from Mechanicsville, spent rainy days building model cars and collecting coins. Fall highlights for him were supporting our grid team and hunting. After graduation, he hopes to head west to study civil engineering at LeTourneau College, Texas.

JEAN HURST

Give us a cheer, Jean! And well she can, too. As one of our super cheerleaders, Jean has really helped to spark all of our teams. Other than participating in school activities, Jean enjoyed swimming, skating, and dancing. The Class of '63 wishes the best to her in all future endeavors.

CAROL JAMES

One of the non-notorious James's, Carol spent many happy moments at P.H.S. Over a four-year stretch, she enjoyed biology, math, and bookkeeping classes best of all (says she!). When not helping with F.H.A., she turned her attention to reading, sewing, or dancing. Although her plans after graduation are hazy, we are confident she will excel in any field she may choose.

JOANNE JAMES

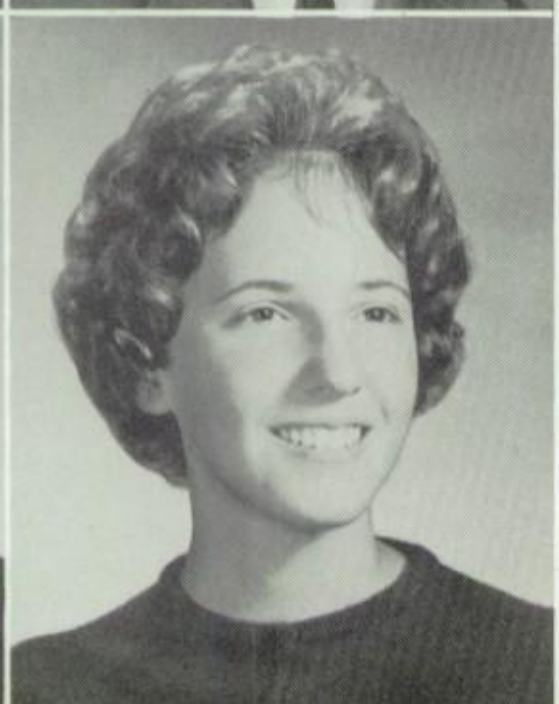
Have you heard that inevitable giggle near Homeroom 120? If you have, you heard Joanne—a gal who really enjoyed not only her classes on the "hill," but also her club associations, such as F.T.A. We hereby send her on her way into the business world with the knowledge that her prospective employer will appreciate her as much as we did.

PETER JOBREY

An import from England, Pete's favorite pastimes were hunting and trapping—that is, when he could tear himself away from machine shop. Upon graduation, he plans to become a jet tuner-upper in the U. S. Air Force. To this memorable addition to our class we wish lots of luck, happiness, and laughter.

THERESA KANISH

V-I-C-T-O-R-Y is the familiar cheer usually heard from this vivacious, dedicated, and capable cheerleader. Theresa was vital, not only in cheerleading, but also to National Honor Society, G.A.A., and F.H.A. Although her future plans are not quite clear, whatever she does—she'll do it with a cheer.



CECILE KANTNER

Even though "Kant" plans to study counselling after graduation, she seemed to possess a talent for penmanship, since she served as secretary of both A.I.D. and a cappella. Friendly, attractive, and vivacious "Cecil," who could unusually be seen zooming through Pottsville in her black Ford, was always on the look-out for fun—and stop signs! With her pleasing personality and winning ways, "Ceil's" a cinch to excel in her future endeavors.

DANIEL KAUFFMAN

"Let's waddle!" Yep, thus saith the Gene Kelly of the Class of '63. As one looked at Danny, he could see one of two things moving: his feet or his jaws. The latter were put to good use as a prompter in "Lock, Stock, and Lipstick"; his feet, when he represented us in the various dance contests (especially at the Channel 8 Dance Party in Lancaster). May he "step" his way into the hearts of all, as he did at P. H. S., when he becomes a choreographer.

LUCILLE KEATING

Who's that little blonde leaving Mr. Luchnick's lab? It's none other than our Lucille. Enjoying school thoroughly, participating in activities, and cheering at our games were three of her most satisfying pleasures. The Class of '63 wishes nothing but a clear and sharp focus for this future X-ray technician.

CAROL KEEFER

"Is it true that blondes have more fun?" Just ask Carol for the answer! For her part, she's sure to answer "Yes." "Keef" is a girl who is never afraid to speak her mind and who has more than a vague awareness of what is going on. She actively participated in Library Club and Junior Volunteer Nursing Corps. To you, "Keef," we extend a fondest farewell.

VERONICA KEVY

Take a perfect hairdo, a New York accent, a cheerful smile, and a love for fun; put them together and you have "Ronnie." She performed capably in the twirling corps and also served as homeroom president. "Ronnie" loved to dance and could usually be found where there was a party. This peppy gal has a lot going for her.

VICTORIA KIPP

For a girl born in sunny California, Vickie certainly became a convert to cold-weather sports. Football, basketball, and ice-skating occupied most, if not all, of her spare time. In school she rated English and typing as her most enjoyable classes. We wish only the very best to this tiny but mighty miss.

JAMES KIRK

Fun-loving and carefree, Jim could not infrequently be found at Mickey's or driving his car around town. "Kirkie" gave a "solid" account of himself in the backfield of our fine football team. As Jim heads to Penn State, we hope he will continue to run hard toward Life's goal line.

LEE KIRK

The happy, jovial janitor (Charlie Plunkett) in our class play, this good-looking heartbreaker attracted sighs and winks from the females of P. H. S. (Lee has confided to us that he usually feels much better after a few winks — especially if she winks back!!) DeMolay and a cappella drew upon his abilities, too. May all his troubles be little academy awards!

WILLIAM KLINE

Clear the way!! Here comes our Bill in his rocket Olds. This industrious lad filled his leisure time by hunting and tinkering with machinery. With his spirit of adventure, we're sure his ambition to join the Air Force didn't just come from "out of the blue."

JOSEPH KOPACH

"Silentium!" This immortal word echoed many times from the lips of the "noblest Roman of them all." Having survived Latin, Joe was able to muster enough reserve strength for Student Council, French Club, and, naturally—Latin Club. When not doing research for term papers (or loafing), he could invariably be found studying his trig. This budding mathematician will be remembered for his friendly manner and genuine sincerity.

CAROLE KOSTELNICK

Carol has that valuable trait—a friendly disposition. Unruffled at minor setbacks, she was one of Mr. Luchnick's Commercial Lab workers. Ability to do what she really wants to do is one of Carol's outstanding characteristics May she continue to "do."

RONALD KRANTZ

Now meet another lad who claims machine shop as the greatest. Ron can usually be found either thinking of ways to avoid work or else creating tools which will lessen it. "Krantzie" has proved himself adept in mechanics. Smooth sailing to a future Navy man.

GALE KRIEGER

This affable, clarinet-playing miss proved to be a pillar in our band. Gale spent much time and energy in Y-Teens, typing, band, and ice-skating. The latter fascinated her so much that she's considering a career as a professional skater. May this Gale always "breeze along with the breeze."

JOHN KRUSS

A somewhat reticent Port Carbonite, John really came to life when discussing or pursuing his favorite hobbies: hunting and fishing. Despite this usually quiet manner, John's genuine interest in others gained for him many lasting friends during his stay here. As he enters the Navy and takes up pipe-fitting, we wish him the best. Pipe down, mates!!

ELIZABETH KULKA

This high-stepping, dark-haired beauty of the twirling corps made many lasting friendships at P.H.S. Betty enjoyed sewing as a hobby and served on the Hi-S-Potts Newspaper staff. She claimed chemistry and English to be her favorite subjects. We are positive that she will do well in whatever she endeavors to do.

DIANE KURTZ

Known as "Kurt" to her friends, this young lady was a member of Miss Curran's D.E. class, for which she served as secretary. Throughout her four years at P.H.S., she participated in G.A.A., Home Economics Club, Hi-S-Potts Newspaper staff, and Senior Y-Teens. In the field of retailing she is sure to "cash in" on good fortune.

KAREN KUSS

What more could one want—intelligence, good looks, charm, popularity, and an alliterative name! Place these together and what do you have—a tantalizing Karen Kuss, otherwise known as Mary Lou (senior play). She proved her capabilities when she acted as treasurer of the Kilts, vice-president of the a cappella choir in her junior year, and was a member of A.I.D. and F.T.A. Since Karen possesses oodles of charm, she's sure to rate high as a future school marm.

NANCY LASCO

"Take a letter, Miss Lasco!" "Nanc," an enrollee in the Business Ed. course, was a popular classmate. Having merited membership in the National Honor Society and Y-Teens, this gal was credited as being a very capable and reliable leader. May this "lass-co" into the "type" of life of which she dreams!

MICHAEL LA SELVA

"Izzy" (the dizzy mayor of Palo Alto!) was one of the better known members of our class. Besides being a Chevy driver, he was co-captain of our varsity football team, belonged to the Varsity Club, and maintained a "hold" on the wrestling team. He was also quite famous for his own special brand of humor. To one of the front-line Flynnmen, we say, "Go tackle the world!"

SUSAN LAYTON

Need a basketball forward or an expert knot ti-er? Call on "Stretch." Aside from attending Girl Scout roundups and haunting German III, Suzy could also be found talking in a cappella or talking in Library Club, or — just talking. In the role of a future German teacher, we wish her well.

SARAH JANE LECHLEITNER

"Sally Ann," as her friends knew her, was a heads-up member of the D.E. class. She participated in the activities of G.A.A. during her freshman and sophomore years at Pottsville High. May this petite lass "sale" to success as she enters the field of retailing.

DARYL LICKMAN

Daryl, one of our future nurses, will please the patients, we know, with her ready smile and friendly personality. Good luck, Daryl! May every scale and thermometer register satisfaction to this soft-spoken miss in her career of helping others.

EDWARD LILLEY

Who was that tall, dark, and handsome male walking down the hall? Why, it was Ed! He claimed eating as his favorite pastime — along with dancing and driving. We hope this friendly lad will enjoy the many good things life has to offer. Here's one fellow who, though his head is in the clouds, will keep his feet on the ground.

MARILYN LINER

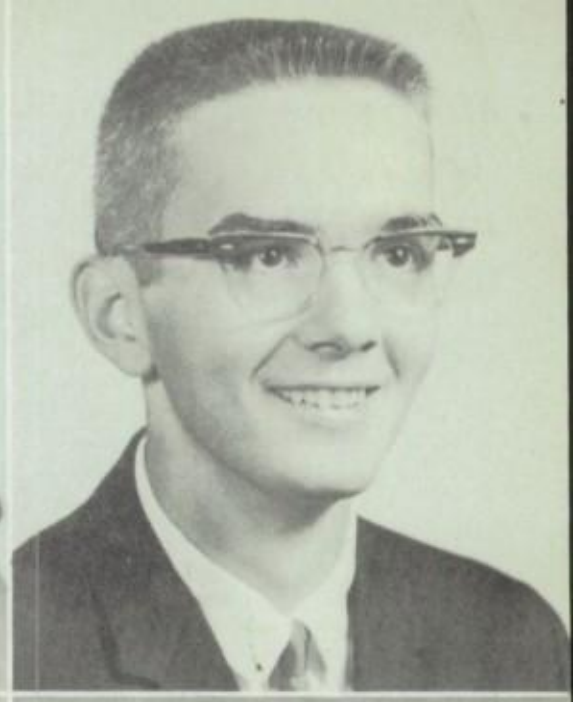
"Quiet, sweet—without conceit" most aptly described our Marilyn. An active member of Sketch Club and A.I.D., "Bernie" was credited with being an asset to any social affair. The Diner and football games always loomed large in her leisure-time pursuits. Warmest wishes to this lass as she enters the field of merchandising.

WILLIAM LIPTOK

When the curtain opens and the houselights dim, everyone on stage knows the props are well taken care of by Bill, one of the ever-faithful members of the stage crew. An enrollee in Mr. Davis' shop, this electrician is well qualified to work "in the cage." Here's hoping that Bill himself will be in the spotlight not too many years from now.

BILLIE ANN LORD

Intelligent, ambitious, and lovely, our blonde bomb from the East Side, will take the beauty profession by storm upon her graduation. She very ably played drums in the Kilts, served on the Hi-S-Potts Newspaper staff, and was a member of G.A.A. To this future dabbler in the art of beauty, we wish the best o' everything.



BARRY LOWE

Tall, dark, and handsome? Yes, sir, that's Barry. This popular possessor of a shy smile, when not dividing his limited time among track, cross-country, and tennis, managed to be the secretary-treasurer of the Sketch Club, a member of National Honor Society, and last —but definitely not least — a most efficient president of Student Council. May this future bio-chemist have a sharp, moving eye and an ever-focused microscope!

JAMES LUSCAN

Nativity's loss was P.H.S.'s gain when Jim joined us as a sophomore. One of the abler (and funnier) members of our class, he is the only senior to have received a letter of commendation from the National Merit Scholarship Qualifying Test authorities upon his achievement. His favorite pastime, excluding study hall, was arguing with Miss Foley in her "English class for Plumbers." Upon graduation, Jim plans to study at the Drexel Institue of Technology.

JOYCE MAJOR

Attractive, well liked, friendly, witty—this, without a doubt, is Joyce. An industrious student, Joyce worked in the commercial lab as well as upheld her end in other school activities. Upon graduation, she plans to further her education in the areas of I.B.M. and keypunch manipulators. May everything good be a "Major" achievement for one Joyce Major!

BARRY MARCH

Readers, we present to you Barry Maier March. This inherently good-natured chap numbers many among his friends. Given half a chance, he will impress you with his common sense, general knowledge of what-makes-the-world-go-round, and keen sense of humor. This personable fellow did a great job as sports editor of the Hi-S-Potts Yearbook. To Barry we say, "Forward, March."

ALVA McALONIS

The fine art of conversing with the "gang" (usually at Mickey's) and cheering for the hard-playing P.H.S. teams were the things this gal really enjoyed doing. During her years on the Hill, she participated in Senior Y-Teens and on the Hi-S-Potts Newspaper staff. To this girl with the warm and friendly smile we wish nothing but the best.

JAMES McANANY

Having transferred from Nativity during his sophomore year, Jim, after a hearty welcome from P.H.S., settled quite comfortably into our scheme of things. When not ringing buzzers in Electric Shop, he could most often be found pursuing his favorite hobby, cars. May this future electrician have many successful connections and few short-circuits in his future endeavors.

CHERYL MELUSKY

Dainty and demure, Cheryl is one of the more industrious students of P.H.S. The diligence shown in her work in the Commercial Lab was a deciding factor in the effectiveness of this group's endeavors. If the past predicts the future, Cheryl will do well, for she plans ahead—and follows through.

GEORGE METAXAS

Do you remember seeing a car that persistently refused to stay together? You can rest assured it belonged to "Gee." Devising various schemes and telling jokes claimed most of his spare time. Speaking of time, he seemed to have devoted a lot of it to baseball, basketball (he was considered one of Mr. Haberle's best), T.K.D., and Varsity Club. Lots of luck to "Gee" as he "engineers" his way through life.

WILLIAM MEYER

An ambitious but quiet fellow with a wonderful sense of humor, Bill ranked Mr. Liddle's math classes tops. In addition to doing homework (his favorite hobby), this chap devoted his time to gardening, TV watching, and presiding over the Order of the Arrow. His future plans include "prowling" with the Coast Guard.

JOEL MEYERS

Industrious—that's one word which accurately describes Joel. When not working, he prefers to read about or tinker with a car—ANY car! Because of his industry and know-how when working with things mechanical, we are sure Joel will become an excellent watchmaker or a flight "manipulator."

JOAN L. MILLER

Need a good scorekeeper or referee? This peppy girl could usually be found tallying the points or calling fouls in all the girls' sports tournaments. When not attending G. A. A. meetings, Joan could be found participating in the Rainbow activities. Though her future is currently vague, we know she'll "score" in her chosen field of endeavor.

JOAN P. MILLER

Although there was always confusion about which Joan Miller people were referring to, Joan P. had a unique personality all her own. One of the Business Education enrollees, Joan really enjoyed her days at P.H.S. Her interests ranged from A.I.D. in school to Mickey's, the Diner, and the Lake out of school. Best wishes in whatever you do, Joanie!

ROBERT MILLER

Bob, friendly and well liked, was a most capable member of a cappella choir. While he claims World Problems as his favorite, he also admits Mr. Schnerring's class kept him awake. We wish only the happiest future to Bob as he plans a vocation in electronics in the Air Force.

CURTIS MOHL

Curt's know-how about machines was well known at P.H.S. A proud member of the Machine Shop who displayed his talents well, Curt loved sports and sports-car racing. Although his future plans are indefinite, we know he will give a good account of himself in whatever he attempts.

BONNIE MORAN

"Good things come in small packages." How true this is of perky Bonnie. Never without a smile, Bonnie was a majorette and a member of both Library Club and French Club. Next year this fun-loving, red-head plans to pursue elementary teaching. We know she will make the "grade," for a "bonnie" lass she is!

DOLORES MORAN

Beneath that sweet, composed, sophisticated exterior beats the heart of one of the most sociable, fun-loving members of our class, Dolores, who turned in a memorable performance as Jane Gardner in the senior play, also enjoyed Biology Club and A.I.D. activities, having served as treasurer of the latter. May this lass with the calm exterior but vivacious inner energy also play well her role as a future medical secretary.

KAY MORGAN

As vivacious and sparkling as the cheers she so ably led, Kay has carved her own special niche in our memories. The cheerleading squad (captain), National Honor Society (secretary-treasurer), and Annual staff — all were enhanced by her compelling enthusiasm. Here's to our Kay — a real kay-o!

VINCENT MORGAN

Famous for his organization of "The Avengers," a rock 'n roll combo, Vince, a likeable guy, made the Victory Dances "musts." However, cars and their workings were his first love, as he proved by usually being in one of three places— Mr. Drum's Auto Shop, at a meeting of the Phillip C. Melley Hot Rod Association or under the hood of his '56 Chevy. To a fellow who always gave his best, may we wish exactly that — the best.

BARBARA MORTIMER

This cute, personable, and peppy miss won one of the most coveted of all female honors at Pottsville High: she was crowned 1961 Football Queen. Barb also was an able vice-president of the band. P. O.D. and chemistry added zip to her seven class periods. After training at Goldey Beacom, Barb plans to fly high as an airline hostess.

SHERRILL MOYER

So diverse were her activities that one hardly knew where to find "Sherry." If she didn't "show" in the art room, one could cross his fingers and try the Aqua Angels Skin Diving Club, or the Scavengers Hot Rod Association, of which she was secretary. In whatever field "Sherry" chooses to cast her lot, we shall look for her at the top.

WILLIAM MURRAY

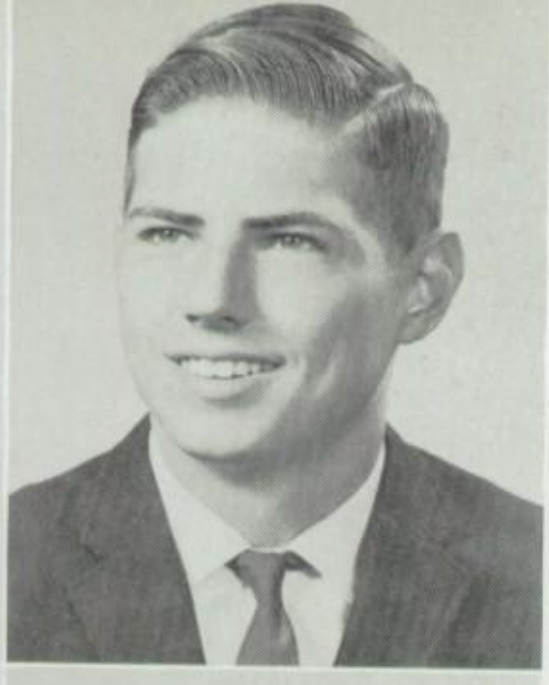
Rather quiet and reflective, Bill, the happy hunter, is one of those industrious and hard-working(?) fellows who is understandably proud of the fact that he came back with an eight-pronged buck on the first day of deer-hunting season. (Get him to tell you about the "prodigies of rod and gun" some time.) His vitality and personality were evident in his readiness to assist as a member of the stage crew. We salute you, Bill!

HARRY NAGLE

Now here's a boy with an abundance of talent. Besides being a spirited participant in "Y" basketball, Harry lent his golden voice to a cappella choir for four years. And, to top it off, he was elected president of the Associated Choirs. To a future serviceman, we wish the best of good fortune.

SANDRA NEDEROSKI

To the rhythm of whistles and drums, the band went through its paces under the capable leadership of Sandy, our head majorette. Learning the importance of education early in high school, she prepared for a career in the business field. Although her post-high school plans are not definite, we are confident Sandy will continue her role as a leader in Life's parade.



SONIA NEDEROSKI

"One of the two" is a perfect title to give to one of the two famous twins at P. H. S. Small wonder she was so well known—she was co-captain of the majorette squad and one of the undisputed better dancers in the Senior class. May Sonia always have at her fingertips a twirl of success!

JOHN NORTON

A gay blade of the Senior class, John is always ready with a quick smile and a happy "hello." Mickey was like a second father to him — and what would he ever have done without his car? John still wears his famous baseball hat, signifying that he is a Yankee fan through 'n' through. To a future collegian go our very best wishes.

MICHAEL OERTHER

This colorful character was well known for his personality-plus. In Student Council, Varsity Club, and on the basketball court, "Moon's" performance was more than adequate. Hoping to become a mathematician, Mike worked hardest in math (natch!) and chem (guess why!!). May all your endeavors = a highly satisfying life, Mike!

WILLIAM ONISICK

A memorable member of the shop classes, this happy chap could invariably be found within a three-foot radius of fun. When not thus engaged, "Ooh," an avid sportsman, could be found pursuing his favorite hobbies, fishing and hunting. Stevens' Trade School, which he plans to attend after graduation, will, we hope, warmly receive this contribution from the Class of' 63.

CARL PALSGROVE

This chap is one who got a big 'bang" out of chemistry. When not endangering his family by experimeting in his lab at home, Carl devoted his time to stamps, books, math, homework, and food. It's off to Albright, where this ambitious fellow will study for a career in the exciting and challenging field of science.

CHARLES PENBERTH

Our "Chas" seemed to enjoy his four years at P.H.S. This chap made no secret of the fact that he liked World Problems and typing classes best. Upon graduation, Charlie plans to attend Stevens' Trade School in Lancaster and then hopes to enter the Air Force. We wish him the best of luck throughout his future.

MANUEL PEREZ

Rumba, anyone? Manuel, who came to P.H.S. from Cuba in his senior year, places the rumba (and the twist) high on his list of favorites. Besides dancing, he's also a champion ping-pong player and a basketball enthusiast. Our best wishes go to this friendly lad with the captivating smile as he enters the field of medicine.

JAMES PERRON

A handsome lad with a winning personality, Jim's popularity (with the gals as well as the guys) was "A-O.K." As a co-captain of our football team and a member of the Varsity Club, he showed lots of get-up-and-go. Jim's favorite hobby, sliding on frozen H_2O, took up a sizeable portion of his time. As he heads for P. M. C., we wish for him the very best.

RAYMOND PICCIONI

Ray, a carefree sunshine-and-fresh-air man, is a very likeable sort of guy. He especially enjoyed football games, but his likes were not confined to the outdoors. He found delight in basketball games and his drafting class, where he began to outline his blueprint for life at Stevens' Trade School.

JUNE PINSHOCK

June, the name of a very lovely month, is also the name of a very lovely girl who set many a heart a-flutter. She enjoyed participating in Senior Y-Teens, G.A.A., and the Aqua Angels Skin Diving Club. As her future plans include modeling, may she make a "model" person of herself.

DARLENE POTTS

Zooming through the streets of Pottsville in her blood red Falcon, swimming, and typing ranked high on Darlene's list of activities. Serving as typist for the Library Club and being a member of the Commercial Lab gave her many enjoyable moments while at P.H.S. Without a doubt, she will embark upon a secretarial career with zest galore.

TERRENCE PRICE

If you've seen a tall, handsome, blond stranger in the halls this past year, you know of the very welcome addition to our great Senior class. Well endowed physically and socially, Terry naturally spends his spare time working out at the "Y" or driving his fabulous Ford. May the "price" of success never be too high for this likeable lad.

KATHLEEN PROKOP

Here is a mighty fine miss who lent grace to the halls of P. H. S. She was always bubbling over with charm and possessed a giggle that will never be forgotten. The activity which she enjoyed most was that as a Kilt. We wish this pretty lass a bright and shiny future.

KATHLEEN PURIN

Kathie, up-to-the-minute, both in clothes and conversation, has been outstanding in a class which lays claim upon many "outstanding" personalities. Her enthusiasm and radiant smile could especially be seen at the football games, where she marched and twirled so capably with the majorette corps. May Kathie's future be as bright as our memories of her promise to be!

JOHN REBUCK

Our "Jack-in-the-box" was truly one of the best-liked guys in our class. Likely to pop up anywhere, he usually could be found wherever there was a party. As a member of the varsity football team, he found an outlet for some of his boundless energy on the gridiron. Truly, all work and no play makes — Jack!

JAMES REDDINGTON

Jim, captain of the Cross-Country team, a four-year member of the track team, and a devotee of the Varsity Club, always seemed to be running somewhere. His interest in acceleration is now carrying him to college, where he hopes to prepare for a career in physical education. May this energetic guy "finish the course" with flying colors!

JANE REESE

WOW! This is the only word that can describe this lovely girl with the beautiful red hair. Being popular and lovely, she participated in a rainbow of activities, including G.A.A., Library Club, and the Order of the Rainbow. When it comes to traveling, Jane has done some of this, also; for instance, that memorable trip to England. May you wend your way through life at a satisfying speed, Jane.

WILLIAM REHMAN

Meet the Huckleberry Finn of the Senior class. This tall, blond, handsome fellow rated fishing and hunting tops. He tackled many a hard chemistry experiment with zest and blew a "wicked" horn in the fine P.H.S. band. "Smokey the Bear" will have a cuddly buddy as Bill enters the forestry service. A long "Gray" for Rehman!

JOSEPH RICH

One of the traveling-est members of our class, Joe eventually landed in Pottsville and P.H.S.—and are we ever glad! A sports enthusiast, he participated in track and field, enjoyed football, and thought swimming was a "splash." To this paratrooper-to-be in Uncle Sam's Air Force we wish innumerable guaranteed-to-open chutes and a half-dozen "Geronimoes"! May this "Joe" strike it "Rich"!

WILLIAM ROBERTS

Slow of smile, quick of wit, Bill was a joy to have as a classmate. As a member of Hi-S-Potts Annual staff (art editor), Sketch Club (president, no less!), and National Honor Society (vice-president), he could always be counted upon to do more than was expected of him. The best of everything to the '63-er with that calm, composed, absolutely-even disposition.

ROSALIE ROMAIN

LONG LIVE HER MAJESTY! When not reigning as 1962 Football Queen or learning her lines as Miss Entwhistle in the unforgetable senior play, Rose found delight in dancing, swimming, skating, or lending her talents to G.A.A. and French Club. As a future cosmetologist (wow!), may this gal with the alliterative name powder up a creation in the World of Beauty!

JANE ROMIG

Beauty + brains + sincerity + personality = Jane, who became one of us in her junior year. Literary minded, she, through her writing effort, won recognition in national competition. She claims membership in the a cappella choir and on the Annual staff. As one interested in religious work, she served as president of a young people's church group. Good luck, Jane, in all your future endeavors.

GALE ROSENBERGER

In Gale's estimation, P.H.S. is one of the finest high schools a person can attend. (We agree!) An active participant of the Girls' Athletic Association, she fills her leisure time with basketball, baseball, and volley ball. Enroute to becoming a beautician, Gale leaves us with our best wishes.

PHYLLIS ROSENKRANTZ

"Scalpel - scissors - sponge!" No need to guess what this lass plans to major in. "Phyl," the epitome of charm, loquacity, and friendliness, found dancing, driving, or simply having a good time to her liking. "With a tip of the white cap" we bid farewell to this future nurse.

ALICE RUSSELL

Throughout her years at P. H.S., Alice has rated cooking, typing, and economics as her favorites—in that order. Outside of school, she takes pleasure in baby-sitting and caring for small children. After graduation, she plans to become a seamstress. In this endeavor we wish her oodles of sewing—and the reaping of nothing but the best.

DOLLY RUSSELL

This charming girl was enrolled in the secretarial course; her favorite subject was typing. A deep love for people and work distinguish her. Dolly hopes to become a top-notch typist, a job to which she is ably suited. As she enters this chosen field, we wish luck and satisfaction to this warm-hearted lass.

HARRY RUSSEL

A well-liked member of Auto Shop class, Harry really enjoyed working on—you guessed it — motor cars. In fact, he spends much of his spare time customizing his 1954 Ford. The U. S. Armed Forces, where he hopes to further his study of motors and things mechanical, are his next points of interest. May he persevere and prosper!

GLORIA SABOLD

Here's another Port Carbonite who graces the halls of P.H.S. Grace and charm radiate from Gloria, the gal whose main interest is other people. As she floats into the world of beauty, may some of hers rub off on her associates. Good luck, Gloria, as you move on to even happier years.

THOMAS SAUERS

See that streak of blue? Feel that blast of air? That's Tom, whipping it up in his '40 Chevy sedan. Whether water-skiing, ice-skating, dancing, or working on his car, Tom was a real "blast" of fun. An active participant of the "Aqua Angels" and of the "Scavengers," (Pres., no less), this future gob will undoubtedly flourish as a mechanic. Here's one fellow whose personality belied his name.

JOHN SAYLOR

This serious, likeable sportsman will some day be an ace jet mechanic—he hopes! Upon graduation, he plans to enter the Air Force. After that, he has his sights set on a career of auto mechanics. Good Luck, John!

CAROL SCHAEFFER

"Schaeffer" is the one girl to have when you're having any kind of sports outing! A real enthusiast, Carol enjoyed ice-skating, roller-skating, and and swimming. While at P.H.S., she was an active member of Future Homemakers of America, having served as treasurer during her senior year. Although Carol is uncertain about her future plans, we are sure she will do a "bang-up" job in whatever she chooses.

MARTINA SCHAEFFER

Seemingly unaffected by the hubbub of everyday life, somewhat tiny Martina surprised everyone with her interest in sports. Though an avid P.H.S. fan, Martina preferred to participate in girls' intramural sports after school. Although her plans for the coming years are still in the "iffy" stage, we are sure that Martina's easy-going nature will enable her to take things as they come "in stride."

VAN SCHAEFFER

As a boy wonder-of-the-world, "Pete" lived at Mickey's, loved sports, laughed a great deal, and helped to make everyone happy! This V.P. of T.K.D. was a V.I.P. on the track team for four years. "Pete" is a sure bet to kick up lots of dust on whatever "track" he chooses.

JUNE SCHELL

Hear that gal with the sweet, clear voice? That's our June. Well known for her vocal talent, she also managed to leave her "mark" by skating. Then, too, she "sparked" many commercial classes. Those of us who know this lively lass trust that her fine talent will lead her to a rewarding career as a recording artist.

PATRICIA SCHLEICHER

This vivacious, pert, and loquacious miss was always a big hit at any senior gathering. If she weren't zooming around town in her blue "Merc," Pat was most likely out spying for the Hi-S-Potts Newspaper. To this resourceful future secretary we hereby "dictate" a well-earned letter of commendation. We're very truly yours, Pat.

DOROTHY SCHOFFSTALL

While at P. H. S., "Dottie" devoted much of her time to typing and math classes, for these were her favorite subjects. Although she has no definite post-graduation plans, we are confident she will give a good account of herself in the field of her choice.

HENRY SCHRODING

A Port Carbonite who enjoys working, not only with his brain, but also with his hands. Henry was a friendly, likeable asset to the Vocational classes. Having chosen hunting, fishing, and playing the trumpet as his favorite pastimes, he intends to soar to new heights as a proud member of Uncle Sam's Air Force.

PATRICIA SCOTT

Wherever you hear sweet music, Pattie can't be far away, for her musical ability encompassed both a cappella choir and the band. Pattie gave a commendable performance in our fun-filled senior play. Her inspirational ideas were well received by A.I.D. and the Annual staff, too! For this future nurse we prescribe health, wealth, and happiness—in extra large doses.

WILLIAM SEARLE

"A heart of gold and a crop of red hair" best describes this ladies' man. "Redd," as his friends call him, is an enrollee of the vocational department, an avid member of the Phillip C. Melley Hot Rod Association, and the leader of a rock n' roll combo, The Avengers, which plays for many of our school dances. To you, "Redd," we extend our best, as you enter the National Technical School in California.

FREDERICK SEIWELL

In the market for a swinging saxophone player? If you are, STOP, for you have found the "swinging-est." Fred, a member of the band, always wore a smile and carried a friendly "Hi!" Keep smilin', Fred, and your life will contain nary a note of discord.

Brad,
I'll miss you and
[illegible] Mimi

MARION SIEGEL

One could say music was Mimi's middle name. In addition to providing us with organ tunes at assemblies, this charming and friendly lass lent her talents to the band and a cappella choir. Talented in other fields, she served capably as president of A.I.D. and treasurer of the Student Council. Her future plans include Millersville State, where she'll major in elementary education.

JOANN SMOLUK

Joann, one of our favorite sales girls, has the proper salesmanship personality. She has been a familiar figure at Woolworth's as a result of experience in Miss Curran's D.E. class. Her interests are typing, history, collecting records, and reading good books. May good things happen to her in all her endeavors.

JAMES SNYDER

Have you ever seen a dark, dashing, young man working out at the Acme? If you have, that was Jim—one of the best all-around guys in the best all-around class! One sure fire way to get into Jim's good graces is to mention the outdoors—this guy's favorite place. Although his future plans are currently uncertain, we are sure he will charm others the way he did those who knew him in "the Castle on the Hill."

ALBERTA SPINA

From Mickey's to games and dances—this gregarious miss went everywhere with "the crowd." Although "Pudgie" spent much time studying English and chem, she also managed to fit Sketch Club into her busy schedule. With a bag full of enthusiasm (and our best wishes) "Pudgie" is on her way to fabulous Miami, Florida, and a career in the arts.

RONALD STEIN

Ron, an ardent member of Mr. Luchnick's commercial class, never failed to support our football and basketball teams. This man of the outdoors took great pride in hunting, fishing, and swimming. Upon graduation, Ron's new home-away-from-home will be with Uncle Sam and the Air Force.

TERRY STEINBERGER

Very friendly, very likeable, very attractive—accurately apply to this versatile miss. Languages are her main interest, shown by her multiplicity of foreign pen pals and her advanced study of German. As feature editor of our Annual and a member of National Honor Society, Terri will long be remembered for her winning ways. The Class of '63 says to you—Auf Wiedersehen!

DOROTHY STOFFA

Hi, there, Mrs. Maggs! How are things comin' these days? Full of fun and frolic, Dorothy made a terrific janitress in "L. S. and L." Her talents didn't stop there; they emerged throughout all her activities, including Kilts, Annual staff, Future Homemakers of America (president), and Latin Club. Swing that mop, push that broom, and your future is sure to be a clean sweep in the right direction, Dottie!

EDWARD SYKES

If, while walking through the ground floor corridor, you heard a rumbling from the band room, it could have been nothing but Ed's beating on the base drum. When not accompanying our cheers, he could be seen jaunting along the countryside with Mr. Sterner's track and cross-country teams. To Ed we wish the best of luck as he runs along the track of mechanical engineering.

MARIANNE SYKES

One of the more loquacious members of our class, Marianne found this "talent" a valuable asset in both P.O.D. and English. A cappella, band, G.A.A., and F.H.A. rated high on her list of extra-curricular activities, with sports and art running a close second. With brush and palette in hand, may this embyro art teacher "draw" the very best "streaks" of luck!

MICHAEL TARLTON

Another member of Miss Curran's Distributive Education class, Mike claims cars and model airplanes as his favorite hobbies. During his stay at P. H.S., Mike, with his easy-going manner and friendly ways, has made many lasting friends. If he carries this same good nature into all his future endeavors, Mike can't help but "make his mark."

DOLORES TERRILL

Where could this gal be found? Usually at Rose's with the gang or driving around in that "serviceable" green Nash. With her friendly, affable disposition and musical ability she helped make our fine band and school even finer. To one of the "proud and faithful Mount Hopers": mountains of luck. May there never be anything dolorous for our Dolores!

DAVID THOMAS

Happy at work, happier in assembly, and happiest at lunch was our "Ells," whose good-natured disposition and ever-ready wit were well known throughout P. H. S. Then, too, Dave could often be found at the "Y" (he was president of the Hi-Y Club) playing basketketball or just joking around. We wish a bright future to one of our favorites!

WILLIAM THOMAS

Bill, a handsome outdoorsman, loves fishing and auto racing. He was enrolled in the vocational course; his favorite subjects were drafting and machine shop. Don't be surprised if you see him as a U. S. Air Force officer one day in the not-too-distant future. Right, Bill?

RICHARD THORNTON

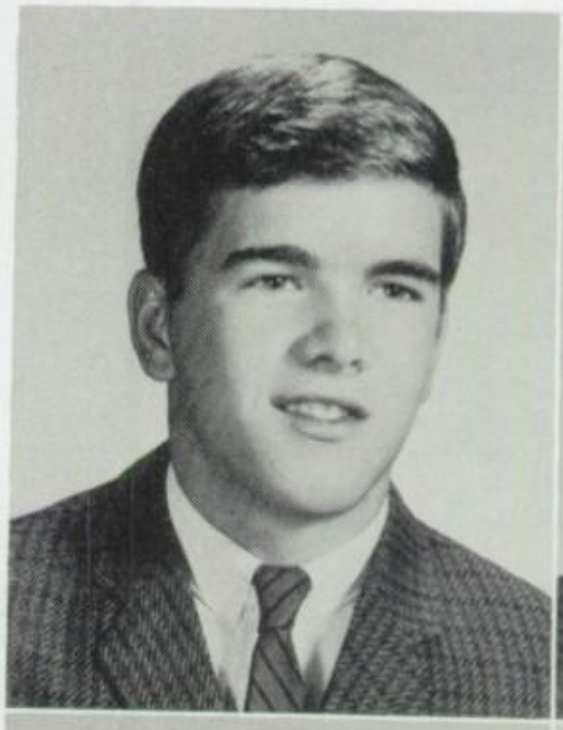
While "Rich" appears to be quiet and reserved, he displays, at the drop of the proverbial hat, his keen sense of humor among his closest friends. His eagerness to help others has proved the old adage, "A friend in need is a friend indeed!" Whatever path he may travel, "Rich" will prove himself worthy of just about any task he undertakes. No thorny paths for this Thornton!

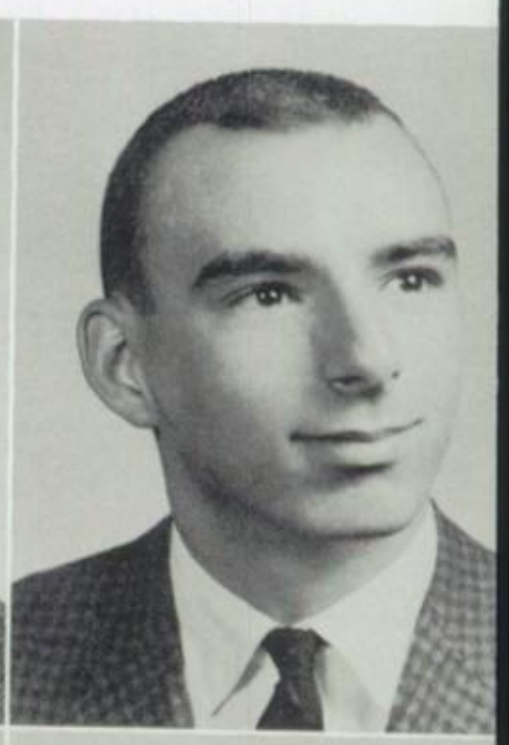
ELIZABETH TYSON

Betty added much to our class with her fun-loving, carefree ways. Her charm and wit created an indelible impression. In four years' service with Student Council, Betty worked diligently and could always be relied upon to get the job done. This lovely miss will be sorely missed as she goes from among us.

JAYNE UMBERGER

"Have Rugmobile—Will Travel" was the cry of this lass. Being an editor for the newspaper, vice-president of Y-Teens, and a journalism student, we are at a loss to see where "Rugs" acquired time to gain all her popularity. May this deserving gal enjoy being the "model" of success.



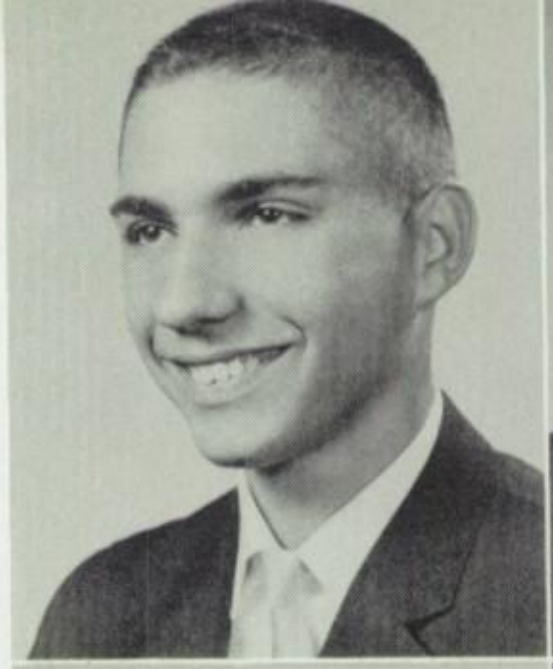


ANTHONY VENTRESCA

Tall and dreamy-eyed, this Neapolitan descendant has charmed many a lass from afar —though he loudly proclaims his innocence. Baseball being his first love, he pitched a "mean" ball for P.H.S.'s peerless nine. We are sure this likeable guy, who could take a joke as well as play one, will "score" well in whatever field he chooses to enter.

JAY WALL

There's not a thing blue about this Jay! An expert at handling a Thunderbird, Jay majored in making friends— and keeping them. He is always a good companion, always consistent in good performance, and always one upon whose countenance Dame Fortune smiles.



EMMA JANE WALTERS

Most attractive, soft-spoken, regal, conscientious, "Em" was held in high regard by both her schoolmates and her teachers. Head Kilt, Library Club prez. secretary of Class of '63, V. P. of G. A. A., member of National Honor Society and A.I.D.—all these were dutifully served by Emma Jane. How in the world will she ever find time to become a top-notch dietician! We're betting that she will — regardless!

JOANNE WARGO

To "war" we "go!" Or so it was in the Annual room as our capable editor-in-chief gave a loud blast for write-ups. A very attractive gal who was always "on the ball," Joanne handled everything she did with skill. She will be remembered especially for her active participation in Library Club (v.-pres.), Latin Club, Program Sales Girls, and National Honor Society. Au Revoir, Joanne!

JOSEPH WARGO

Have you seen a car with a sign on the front, saying, "Joe's Bucket of Bolts"? If you have, may we introduce you to the owner—Joe Wargo. This well-liked, very personable chap enjoyed the outdoors the most. While among us, he did a cracker-jack job of typing the copy for this "super" yearbook. May best of good fortune be his as he enters a life of service in his chosen field— the priesthood.

JOSEPH WARNER

This Joe's a good Joe and a true outdoorsman to boot. With his love for fishing, hunting, archery, and sports car racing, young Mr. W. could always find time to be in the great outdoors. We know he won't have to hunt for luck when he enters Stevens' Trade school this fall.

JAMES WATSON

Snapping fingers, nervous energy, and a happy-go-lucky manner—these are phrases which fondly describe our one-and-only Watson. While he was a most worthy P. H. S. representative in District and State Chorus, a member of the National Honor Society, and a toga-wearer of the Latin Club, Jim claims to have listened most intently in his German classes. To this future Dr. Casey we bequeath wards of satisfied patients, understanding nurses, and a well-worn hypodermic needle.

KERRY WEIST

Kerry, our fun-loving sportsman, enjoyed just about everything and was one of the host of P.H.S. loyal fans. He also liked dancing and swimming. And where can one usually find this likeable guy? At Clem's Pharmacy, where he's doing the ground work for his life's prescription.

HERMAN WERNER

"Sonny," a daring individualist, could most often be found trudging through the woods, swimming in a lake, or devising and executing new and exciting dance steps. Although he spoke with a deep, slow drawl, he could make himself heard when he wished to. May this teen-age Fred Astaire "twist" his way past difficulties and "cha-cha" up the well-known ladder to you-know-where!

ROBERTA WERTLEY

Pretty, popular, loquacious, and always sparkling — that's our "Bert." With her sense of humor she brightened many a P.H.S. day. Getting into little jams and talking in classes were two of her well-known — shall we say?—weaknesses. May one of our favorites experience only the "Hi-S-Potts" of life.

JEAN WHALEN

Petite, pert, and pretty all describe Jeannie, who fixed her attention on Business Education subjects, English and math being her favorites. Jean may seem to be a person of few words, but she can hold her own if the occasion arises. A whale of a girl is Whalen!

DENNIS WIEDERHOLD

"Is there an electrician in the house?" "Denny" certainly can qualify for that position. In his opinion, that subject is "the greatest." If not fishing or hunting, he can be found stopping along the road receiving a speeding ticket. May he zoom to the top in his chosen career.

JOYCE WILLINGHAM

From managing the program sales girls and being an editor of Hi-S-Potts Newspaper to driving her Mercury and working in Mr. Luchnick's Commercial Lab, Joyce has been one of the busiest members of our class. Planning to continue her work as a P-R-I-V-A-T-E S-E-C-R-E-T-A-R-Y, this vivacious lass will always be remembered for her vim, vigor, and vitality. A willing worker is Willingham!

ROBERTA WINKLER

A very talented girl is our Roberta: a winner in the Christmas doll-dressing contest every year and a piper in the Kiltie Corps. She also was a member of F.T.A. and Biology Club. Capable of getting along with everyone, Roberta made warm and lasting friendships. To a future school marm, we extend our warmest and best wishes.

ELIZABETH WITWER

One of our soft-spoken, attractive, and efficient classmates, Liz spent much leisure time strolling with her inseparable cocker-spaniel, "Honey." In addition to her class preparation, Elizabeth devoted much time to her piano and flute-playing efforts. We point with pride to and predict a bright future for this teacher-to-be (lucky kids!!).

DIANE YESAVAGE

Although she claims Marlin as her old homstead, Diane spent much of her time at the Pottsville Hospital, where she eagerly worked as a Junior Volunteer Nurse. Pensive and changeable, she made her presence felt to all who knew her. May she add another feather to her "cap" as she enters the field of nursing.

RICHARD YOBLONSKY

Homeroom 125 proudly claimed Rich, this affable, well-liked red-head. He enjoyed everything at P.H.S., including physics and Spanish and was known synonymously with the word "fun." As Rich leaves the "Castle on the Hill," may he fly high in the Air Force and enjoy success in all his endeavors.

ROBERT YOKITIS

Hunting, fishing, trapping, and anything pertaining to the out-of-doors were all near and dear to Bob. Although he hails from Port Carbon, young Mr. Yokitis spent lots of his time driving his '51 Chevy through Saint Clair. We wish Bob loads of luck as he sets his sights on becoming a game warden.

FERN YOUNG

Petite, lovely, vivacious—that's our Fern! Mickey's, games, and zooming in her red convertible were among her many sources of pleasure. She also spent many of her week-ends commuting to New York. A popular miss, she'll always remain "Young"—until she marries! May this "Fern" sprout robust roots in the field of merchandising.

JOHN YUKNAVAGE

When not going out of his way to help someone who needs it, John, fondly referred to as "Yuck," could be found bowling, fishing, or ice-skating. In his rather limited spare time he also managed to cheer for various teams. As he continues with his post-graduate work, we say, "Lots of luck, 'Yuck'."

GEORGE ZWIEBEL

"Quiet and sincere with an underlying sense of humor" best describe this handsome fellow. George, a member of the wood shop group, kept himself busy running on the cross country and track teams of P.H.S. Since he plans to become a building contractor, our advice on new house construction is, "Let George do it!"

DORIT LANGNES

Dorit won our admiration by her conscientiousness and sincerity. She came to us from one of the northernmost corners of the world: Breivikbotn, Norway, via the American Field Service. This girl's innate sense of genial good humor has made us better for having known her. May life always be good to Dorit—a top-notch ambassador of good-will from the Land of the Midnight Sun!

JUNIORS

"Bodley"
Lots of luck to a boy with such a nice name. I won't name my dog that let alone your always new the Spanish class and old lady —
"Andy"

Brad,
lots of luck and success in your next 10 years at P. H. S. Always remember Mr. "A" and the class of 64.
Bill Cartwright

PATTERSON DIVISION STUDENT COUNCIL

Each eighth grade homeroom is represented by having two members on the Student Council, and each seventh grade has one representative. The representatives are elected by the homeroom students. The Council elects its own officers. Each year the Council sells candy in order to raise funds for the support of several projects which it sponsors during the school year.

The purpose of the Student Council is to promote the general welfare of the student body, provide training in leadership, encourage good student-teacher relationships, and inspire enthusiastic school spirit.

PATTERSON DIVISION CHEERLEADERS

The Patterson Division cheerleaders were organized this year by Mrs. Marian Johnston who served as physical education instructor during the first semester. Marianne Piccioni and Judith Kohner were elected co-captains of the squad. Practices were usually held on Tuesdays and Fridays after school.

In the second semester Miss Ellen Hildreth, the newly elected physical education teacher, assumed the responsibility for coaching the cheerleaders. Much has been done by this group to arouse enthusiasm and interest in Patterson athletic activities.

STUDENT COUNCIL

President
BARRY LOWE

The Student Council of Pottsville High School was organized in 1926. Its two main purposes are to create cooperation between the faculty and the students and to promote the best interests of the school.

One student is elected from each homeroom. The president and vice-president must be seniors and are elected by the student body.

Among the activities of this year's Student Council were: Lyceum programs, the Faculty Party, the Penny-A-Week Drive, procuring Menus from the Cafeteria, the Decathlon, the Tennis Tournament, dances during the lunch periods, soft drink concessions at the basketball games, the Clean-Up Campaign, and the Royal Ball.

NATIONAL HONOR SOCIETY

The National Honor Society consists of students whose eligibility for membership is based upon their scholarship, service, character, and leadership.

The organization is composed of the top fifteen students of the senior class. It is required that each member remain on the honor roll at least five of the six grading periods.

The main project of the society is the traditional selling of "mums" for the Thanksgiving Day game. Upon graduation, each member is presented with a gold pin.

Under the capable leadership of Mr. Benjamin Liddle, the club strives to create enthusiasm for scholastic achievement and to encourage the development of strong character traits.

ALPHA IOTA DELTA

The Alpha Iota Delta, whose Greek name abbreviated represents the letters A. I. D., is a service club as its name implies.

The club, chartered in September 1950, was founded with the main purpose of inspiring its members to give aid and service both to community and school projects.

Many charitable projects are included in its goal for service. At Christmas a basket of food, which includes a complete Christmas dinner, together with a tree with decorations and toys for children, is delivered to a needy family. All of the items in this gift are donated by the girls in the club. In addition, the members are urged to help the Pottsville Hospital Canteen, Tag Day, the Cancer Drive, and Toys for Tots.

Socially, the members enjoy a Christmas luncheon to which the former members who have been graduated are invited. An annual Spring Dance held in the month of April completes the social activities for the year.

Twenty-five girls, of whom ten are seniors, nine juniors, and six sophomores, comprise the membership of the Alpha Iota Delta.

TAU KAPPA DELTA

The Tau Kappa Delta is a fraternal organization composed of seven seniors, four juniors, and two sophomores. These thirteen members are chosen for outstanding participation in at least one activity, qualities of leadership, and satisfactory scholastic standing.

As the seven seniors graduate—three juniors, two sophomores, and two freshmen are chosen near the end of the school term.

This is T.K.D.'s thirty-eighth year of existence. Dr. Albert Knight organized the club in 1924, and it is the oldest club in the school.

The activities of T.K.D. are: the annual Thanksgiving and spring Farmer-Farmerette dances, the paying of the graduation expenses of some needy senior, awarding twenty-five dollars to a senior athlete aspiring to attend college, awarding a trophy to the most valuable athlete of P.H.S., offering the services of the club for any reasonable request by the school administration, and one trip to a sporting event each year.

SKETCH CLUB

The Sketch Club, one of the most active organizations at Pottsville High School, is composed of thirteen of the school's best art students. The purpose of the club is to increase each artist's ability.

Membership is based on skill. An annual award is presented to an outstanding art student who plans to further his education in this field.

The sponsoring of the annual "Frosty Frolic" and the sale of year-book covers are the highlights of this club's innumerable activities.

Each year the members of the Sketch Club purchase an art book to be donated to the library and extend their services to such worthwhile undertakings as make-up for Senior Play cast, stage decorations, and the designing of program covers.

Sketch Club has the privilege of having Miss Mary Jane Goas as its very capable adviser.

LIBRARY CLUB

The Library Club is composed of girls who are interested in books and are willing to give volunteer service in the library during their study periods and before school.

The club was organized in 1929 and has steadily grown in membership, the number at present being sixty.

The club members sponsored "Open House" during Book Week this year, during which an attractive arrangement of the new books purchased for the library was displayed.

The members are trained to be assistants in the school library. This provides effective and practical experience and at the same time helps the librarian with routine work.

The group under the guidance of Miss Betty Jones, Librarian, holds regular meetings in the library on the second and fourth Tuesdays of the month.

LATIN CLUB

Officially entitled the "Lares et Artes Romanorum," the Latin Club has become one of the most active and prominent organizations of our school. Under the capable leadership of the officers and faculty adviser, Mrs. Amelia Gearhart, this club endeavors to promote a more thorough understanding of Latin law, language, and culture.

Membership is based on the student's semester average and his results on a difficult competitive examination administered at the end of the first semester.

The culmination of all club projects is an authentic Roman banquet held at the end of May. This activity is an exact duplication of the Roman banquet, complete with food, slaves, "wine" (grape juice), and togas.

GIRLS' ATHLETIC ASSOCIATION

The Girls' Athletic Association offers a wonderful opportunity for girls of all classes to participate in various and vigorous sports. Usually the girls who are members of the club are also members of teams such as soft ball, volley ball, tenequoit, and basketball, who play on a competitive basis after school. Girls also act as referees, timekeepers, and scorekeepers at the tournaments.

This year the G. A. A. has become the nucleus for a flash card section, present at all the home basketball games. The section has its own designated area where the girls spell various words pertaining to the different cheers.

An annual picnic is held at Pine View. Most of the members attend, and it has always been a success.

No one can deny that the G. A. A. gives many a sports-minded girl the chance to develop her skills as well as her personality and sportsmanship. Mrs. Marion Fernsler is the faculty adviser.

THE H-S-POTTS NEWSPAPER

The HI-S-POTTS Newspaper was established in the year 1926-'27. It is now in its thirty-seventh year of continuous existence. The newspaper is the sixth oldest of Pottsville High's institutions. The two oldest are the football and track teams, whose history dates back to the eighteen-eighties. Basketball dates back to 1908. Baseball was established after the First World War. The HI-S-POTTS Annual is a successor to the literary publication of Pottsville High, the Crimson and White, which dates back to the 1890's.

First editors of the HI-S-POTTS Newspaper were Herrwood Hobbs '27 and Betty Lidy '28. The first adviser for the newspaper was Mr. Franklin Hoke. The newspaper struck an early happy chord. In the early 1930's under the advisership of Mr. Warren Morgan, the HI-S-POTTS championed many causes close to the interests of the students. A newspaper office was provided and facilities were made available for staff meetings. Mr. Morgan resigned in 1934 to take a position on the metropolitan daily, the Bayonne Times, in the New York City area.

Mr. Morgan was succeeded by Mr. Carlton Sterner.

In 1935, the HI-S-POTTS began entering national and state interscholastic journalistic competition. The newspaper was entered in the Columbia Interscholastic Press Conference, where it took a fifth place in the class of schools with a population of 1,500-2,000 from all forty-eight states.

In 1936, HI-S-POTTS initiated regular entry in the Pennsylvania Scholastic Press Association competition at Pennsylvania State College. First-place ratings were obtained in advertising and editorial writing.

A succession of highly capable editors steered HI-S-POTTS to a shining journalistic success from 1936 to 1950. These editors worked in both the editorial and advertising field. Pottsville High's newspaper rapidly advanced at the Columbia Interscholastic Conference, the world's largest high school journalism convention, until first places were won in their field.

Editors of this era included: Betty Higgins, now Mrs. B. James, a former P. H. S. Latin teacher, now in Syracuse; Martha Reh, now on the West Coast and formerly in the public relations field; Harriet Boone, public relations; Doris Armbruster; Donald Fromme, an Air Force career officer; Ed Lotz, advertising manager in the late 1930's, is a lawyer in Washington, D. C.; Harry Reynolds is a college professor at the University of Pennsylvania with a Doctor of Philosophy degree; and Dick Meier, an editor in the 1950's, is an army physicist research student at the University of Heidelberg in Germany. Herbert Zukauskas is a newspaper editor in Chicago; Stanley Bergstein, who conducted a journalism clinic at the Columbia Press Conference, now edits a newspaper in Chicago and is in the radio field. Other editors were Joan Weiss, who was with the United Nations until she established her home in St. Louis; Anna Jane Woll was a co-editor with Joan Weiss. Virginia Julian and Eva Auslander were other editors of this era. Virginia now resides in Pittsburgh. Eva is the secretary to Mr. D. H. H. Lengel, Superintendent of Schools of the Pottsville Area.

Leadership illustrated by these editors indicates the peaks of achievement possible in the great field of newspaper publication.

DISTRIBUTIVE EDUCATION

Distributive Education is a vocational program designed to help students acquire the business techniques, to increase the efficiency, earning power, and competency that will lead to success in a career in distribution.

This type of program sponsored by the state and federal government, and offered for boys and girls of Pottsville High School through the cooperation of the Board of Education and the local merchants, has many advantages. It enables students enrolled in Distributive Education to secure store experience under observation, supervision, and guidance of the employer, and the teacher-coordinator while attending school.

The school itself gains through Distributive Education, inasmuch as the program broadens the educational facilities of the community and provides for a group of students who wish to make retailing their career.

The student has the advantage of learning many phases of retailing in class during the morning session and the opportunity of applying this information in a practical way on the job in the afternoon. The student is paid the prevailing wage for this work, receives commission on sales whenever the position calls for it, and is allowed the same discount on purchases as are regular employees.

Students enrolled in the Distributive Education program have the opportunity of participating in regional, state, and national contests, thus receiving recognition for their class work, as well as the opportunity of meeting boys and girls enrolled in the same curriculum throughout the nation.

Each year the class sponsors a Student-Merchant Dinner which gives the students the pleasure of feting the merchants who provided work experience throughout the year.

Several valuable awards are made to the outstanding student of the class during the senior Class Day activities.

Miss Blanche M. Curran, coordinator of the program, is the National President of the Distributive Education Teachers.

MUSIC

A CAPPELLA CHOIR

The A Cappella Choir is the principal group of the Pottsville High School Associated Choirs. This year, approximately 66 students of the senior, junior, and sophomore classes worked, under the new and capable leadership of Mr. Norman C. Fox, to perfect musical scores which were presented at the Christmas and Spring Concerts.

The Choir performed its annual Christmas program for the joint meeting of the Kiwanis, Lions, and Rotary Clubs at the Necho Allen Hotel and also presented live, over Radio Station WPPA a half hour of Christmas music from the Yorkville Branch of the Union Bank and Trust Company.

This year a new group of singers, the Madrigal Group, sang many appealing numbers at both the Christmas and Spring Concerts. Out of the Madrigal Group, three members were selected to attend the annual Eastern District Chorus held in Schuylkill Valley Joint School System, Leesport, Pennsylvania. These members were Patricia Scott, Rosaire Deiter, and Joseph Hartley. Rosaire Deiter and Joseph Hartley ably represented P. H. S. at the State Chorus held at the Blue Mountain Area High School.

POTTSVILLE HIGH SCHOOL BAND

This year the 100 members of the Band, under the capable leadership of Professor Arthur L. Delpaz, captivated the attentions of the football fans with their beautiful, new military uniforms and clever routines. They were assisted by four color guards: Willis Liddick, Lawrence Micklo, George McShaw, and Glenn Wolfe, and by twenty-one majorettes, headed by Sandra Nederoski. In addition to providing pre-game entertainment at football games, the organization added spirit at the pep rallies and played at several strawberry festivals, civic affairs, and parades. The Band was awarded first prize for its outstanding marching and playing at the Schuylkill County Firemen's Convention Parade.

The Band was represented at the P. M. E. A. Eastern District Band by Joseph Hartley, Vincent Bound, Thomas Hunter, and Norman Ro-

HIGHLAND LASSIES

The skirling of pipes and the beating of drums mark the appearance of the Highland Lassies, a musical unit within Pottsville Area High School. This colorful organization is composed of twenty-six pipers and six drummers from the sophomore, junior, and senior classes.

The bagpipe, which is very difficult to play, is the national instrument of Scotland. For centuries it has played an important part in rallying soldiers in the heat of battle and helping to celebrate important and festive occasions. Each clan has a distinctive tartan, a shoulder scarf of a particular plaid and color, to represent it. Our band proudly displays the Macbeth Clan tartan.

In the ten years which this band, capably directed by Mr. Arthur Reinsmith, has been in existence, it has lent a distinctive flavor to the football games and parades in and out of this school's jurisdiction.

The Annual Spring Music Festival was presented on May 15th. 1962 FOOTBALL SEASON

POTTSVILLE 40 — BLUE MOUNTAIN 7

The Crimson Tide opened its season with a 40-7 romp over Blue Mountain. Touchdowns were scored by Gene Beard, Jim Kirk, Paul Glenn, Dave Barnes, and Bob Holley. Outstanding linemen included Jim Perron, Jack Rebuck, and Mike LaSelva.

POTTSVILLE 6 — MAHANOY AREA 28

After winning its opening skirmish, the P. H. S. eleven encountered a strong Mahanoy Area team and was defeated, 28-6. Gene Beard scored our only touchdown. Although defeated, the team played an excellent game.

POTTSVILLE 7 — TAMAQUA 13

The Bulldogs put up a tough battle before bowing to a strong Tamaqua squad. Paul Glenn hit pay dirt for our only touchdown, with Gene Beard going over for the p. a. t. The play of Mike LaSelva, Jim Freed, and Lou Barasha was also outstanding.

POTTSVILLE 20 — SUNBURY 19

The Crimson Tide righted itself with a brilliant second-half spurt to beat Sunbury, 20-19. Until the late rally, the game was a real cliff-hanger, with every player performing well.

POTTSVILLE 26 — SHAMOKIN 13

The Flynn-men continued their winning ways with a 26-13 victory over a strong Shamokin High team. Gene Beard's open-field running and the team's overall effort proved to be too much for the Greyhounds.

POTTSVILLE 20 — SHENANDOAH 6

Shenandoah High's dedication of a new stadium was marred only by the Tide's third consecutive win, 20-6. Roy Shellhammer and Gene Beard accounted for the three P. H. S. touchdowns. Jim Perron, Mike LaSelva, and Jack Rebuck stood out along the line.

POTTSVILLE 6 — MT. CARMEL 6

Mt. Carmel High could not stop the Bulldogs' late rally, as they tied the score, 6-6. Paul Glenn scored on a super effort to prevent Coach Flynn's eleven from being shut out. An all-out team spirit provided a thrilling game.

POTTSVILLE 19 — BERWICK 6

Although it was said that Berwick had a strong team, the Crimson Tide proved to be stronger. Dazzling offensive maneuvers by Gene Beard, Lou Barasha, and others highlighted the game, while the defense was on its toes to stop Berwick's threats. The final score was 19-6.

POTTSVILLE 26 — LEBANON 7

The Crimson Tide continued to roll by overpowering the Cedars of Lebanon. Outstanding offensive plays by Gene Beard and Paul Glenn kept the Bulldogs' attack going. Jim Perron, Mike LaSelva, and Frank Tamulonis were outstanding on defense.

POTTSVILLE 21 — ALLENTOWN 19

With the fantastic backfield tactics of Gene Beard and Paul Glenn, P. H. S. squeaked out a morale-building victory against the Canaries. It was the first victory over Allentown since 1938. Beard scored all but one point, having been aided by the tremendous blocking of the line. The victory boosted our record to an impressive 7-2-1.

POTTSVILLE 14 — READING 20

As usual, the Turkey Day Special was another exciting game in the Bulldogs' schedule. Despite the loss, our gridders played their hearts out. Gene Beard had the crowd on its feet with his dazzling footwork, while Jim Kirk made many fine catches. With its tough loss by the score of 20-14, P. H. S. ended a very satisfactory season with a record of 7-3-1.

BASEBALL TEAM

Under the capable direction of Mr. Larry Haberle and Mr. Terry Case, Pottsville again had a winning record of 11-4. The Pottsville nine played hard all year but were beaten in the South Schuylkill League Championship playoff game by Blue Mountain by a score of 2-1. WRESTLING TEAM

Pottsville High School revived wrestling once again as an interscholastic sport in the Schuylkill County area. Not since 1939 has Pottsville had a varsity wrestling program.

For the past two years there has been a Schuylkill County Novice Wrestling Tournament held for the purpose of building enough school interest throughout the area to initiate interscholastic wrestling in as many schools as possible. Pottsville was the first to begin such a program, and several other local schools plan to do the same within the next two years.

Pottsville managed to get off on the right foot in its opener by defeating Wilson Joint of West Lawn 43-5. Then in turn it was:

(To the tune of the Notre Dame Victory Song)

Cheer, cheer for ole Pottsville High,
Heard loud and strong clear up to the sky,
Everyone sings and everyone yells,
Rah, rah, the Bulldogs eager and bright,
Laddies dressed up in Crimson and White,
Each new contest, we aim to win,
And when we don't, there's no noisy din,
Down the opponents, let's up the score,
Each time that you win, we love you more,
Rain or shine we'll always be
Seeking a victory.

The girls who form this group are drawn from all four classes in Pottsville High School. This selling group varies in number from year to year and may comprise from twelve to twenty members.

The 1962 corps was an excellent one that operated under the leadership of Joanne Wargo and Joyce Willingham, seniors.

Others of the 1962 corps included Dorothea Jacobs, Betty Wiley, Sandy Forte, Carol Crawford, Linda Grunda, Lenore Gregan, Kathy Kennedy, Darlene Tomcavage, Carol Smith, Ada Ebert, and Linda Scheitrum.

LYRICS - RUTH HOOVER

Farewell, dear Pottsville High,
  Deep is our love for thee;
Strong is the friendship tie;
  The Class of Sixty-three.
The Class, the Class of Sixty-three.

Farewell to teachers kind,
  Firm was your guiding hand,
We're grateful in heart and mind,
  The Class of Sixty-three.
The Class, the Class of Sixty-three.

Duties which claim our best
  Call us to parting paths;
We, firm will face the test,
  The Class of Sixty-three.
The Class, the Class of Sixty-three.

Oh, why didn't I carry my lunch?

CLASS HISTORY

It all started in the fall of 1959. With mixed emotions and varied degrees of eagerness (some ranged in the minus category), we made our debut in the "Castle on the Hill" on a balmy September day as the new crop of "frosh." Our hearts beat softly (like war drums) as we saw our new home for the next four years. (We hoped it would only be four.) Our spirits sagged at the prospect of solving the puzzle of our daily pathway through this unending maze of corridors. Soon we became skillful at outwitting upperclass pranksters and acquired the noble, valiant P. H. S. spirit. The first few months were spent at Mickey's, football games, dances, and basketball games. But we realized we had to have leaders — anyway, all the other classes had them. So we chose Ruth Hoover (president), Theresa Bosack (vice-president), James Perron (secretary), and James Watson (treasurer), to guide us through the remaining half of our freshman year.

Bursting with plans and ideas, we returned en masse to the beckoning of dusty textbooks, fresh paper, sharpened pencils (paralleled to our sharpened wits), and smiling (???) teachers. The very first day we began exerting our influence as pros of the Information Service of P. H. S. Suddenly the boiler room became a popular place, frequented by conscientious greenhorns from the Class of '64.

A sizeable percentage of our male population coupled with all types of machinery (some dusty and some greasy) commenced testing their skills in the shops. Our commercial fiends had quite a time arranging those contrary ABC's in the desired fashion on 8" x 11" typing paper. Somehow (nobody knows how) we managed to emerge from that tidal wave of biology outlines (a six-weeks' terror), pop quizzes of every size and style, English notebooks (fond recollections of Miss Ryan), and those gigantic semester tests to remain a capable, qualified, ambitious unit on the roster of P. H. S. classes. We couldn't have done it, however, without the administrative abilities of Dave Freeze, Lou Barasha, Ruthie Hoover, and Mike LaSelva. Tucked in between all the formal education (precisely and properly classified by Mrs. D) were parties, games, Mickey's, and slumber parties (pardon me, slumber-LESS). Before anyone could catch his breath from the constant whirl of activities, the year was over and we were upperclassmen.

The pending doorway of our junior year revealed many exciting surprises, filled with fun, frolic, and, regretfully, studies. We set to the task of establishing a reputation as extraordinary upperclassmen. And so we were! Under the sponsorship of the Mothers' Booster Club, Barbara Mortimer claimed the title of the first Pottsville High Football Queen. In the scholastic realm, Jim Luscan was a semi-finalist in the National Merit Scholarship Program. The year was chucked full of dances, tests, Mickey's, the 'Y,' outlines, compositions, and football games. Sometimes we managed a few winks of shut-eye in Physics class. We almost broke the sound barrier (and Mr. Kiehner's sure we did) during those fabulous "pepper-uppers." Each homeroom did its share in dispersing goodies among the students at 3 P. M. to fatten our treasury. From the most outlandish suggestions for class colors, we chose the sharpest, finest combination of colors EVER — NAVY BLUE AND WHITE. We publicized our colors with the purchase of class hats. Through these major decisions Ruth Hoover, George Metaxas, Jim Perron, and John Brochey, our expert milliners, kept us from going color-blind. Soon the 1962 term was history, and we had reached the supreme status of seniors.

We began the greatest year ever with a real bang. After we had taken our posts of leadership in the various school organizations, we launched a stupendous campaign for academic and scholastic excellence at the following centers: Mickey's, football games, the 'Y,' the Lake, and the Diner. We sought diversion by writing themes, and book reports, tracing integers over a slide rule, and learning the technicalities of business education. Some of our star members shone brightly before a record-breaking audience, November, as the performers of "Lock, Stock and Lipstick." This hilariously ludicrous comedy was a success lock, stock, and barrel, to the very last second. Rosalie Romain was crowned the 1963 Football Queen the night the Classic Eleven defeated William Allen. Class pictures and namecards became profuse, and soon commencement announcements and programs made their appearance. A special feature to all this fun and excitement was the presense of Dorit Langnes of Norway. Throughout the year Dave Freeze, Theresa Bosack, Liz D'Alfonso, and Emma Jane Walters kept everything running smoothly.

We're grateful to the helpful advice of our ever-present, never-tiring class advisers, Miss Chadwick and Mr. Fox. Finally the woeful day of the last assembly arrived, and we made our exit to the tune of "Auld Lang Syne."

Oh, we forgot the most spectacular event of the year—the production of the most fabulous, colorful yearbook, even with this .....insertion (You name the adjective) peeking from the Feature Section. Yes, this class history's in your annual, but its authors are no longer here. In case you're looking for us to charge us with libel, give up, because it's a hopeless case. Don't bother looking in Room 120 because it's closed for the season. So let these pages console or amuse you without the delight of "letting off steam" to their producers.

RUTH HOOVER and TERRI STEINBERGER.

LAST WILL AND TESTAMENT

SENIOR PLAY

With Dan K. and Bob A. providing the backstage antics and those people onstage trying diligently to remember lines and develop some histrionic ability, rehearsals could often be mistaken for a madhouse. Many times strains of the "old favorites" rendered by a group Mitch Miller would be proud to claim, drifted from the auditorium. Many other times the Limbo, the radio, and tomorrow's chemistry assignment vied for attention. Only occasionally were all eyes on the stage. There was little hope for such a group as this. Fortunately, with the skills, encouragement, and guidance of Miss Foley, the cast with greasepaint applied donned their costumes and temporarily became professional enough to present a side-splitting performance of John Henderson's "Lock, Stock, and Lipstick." Now the lights have been extinguished, the backstage noises have ceased, and the applause of the audience no longer rings except in the hearts and minds of those who participated.
